CONGRATULATIONS are extended to Gordon Larson by his new boss, Head Football Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State University, after Larson's appointment as a Buckeye assistant coach by the university board of trustees this morning. Looking on is Robert S. Brown, superintendent of Marion city schools. Coach Hayes came to Marion this morning to welcome Larson and visit with the superintendent at the school administration building.

OSU Trustees Name Larson To Buckeye Coaching Staff

By JOHN SHORT,
Marion Star Sports Editor

Gordon K. Larson today was named an assistant football coach at Ohio State University.

Marion's 34-year-old "Ohio High School Coach of the Year" for 1958 was appointed officially to the Buckeye staff by the university board of trustees at a meeting in Columbus this morning.

Larson's appointment to the Ohio State position was expected, since it had been known for several weeks that he was Head Coach Woody Hayes' choice to replace Gene Fekete, who resigned to enter business.

COACH HAYES, who came to Marion today to welcome Larson into the Buckeye fold, said the former Harding High School mentor's duties would be primarily with the backfield and player personnel.

Hayes said Larson was the only candidate he had considered for the vacancy created by Fekete's resignation.

"We are mighty happy to have Gordon on our staff," Hayes said. "We wanted him first for the quality of man he is and, second for the quality of his coaching."

For the most part, Hayes said, Larson will assume the duties of Fekete, who coached the Buckeye backfield. In addition to directing the OSU backs, the Harding coach also will be given scouting assignments by the Buckeye boss.

HAYES, WHILE expecting Larson to handle the backfield job, added that he never makes a definite committment when hiring a coaching assistant and that some switches might be made.

"Our entire staff is just as happy at the appointment as I am," Hayes continued. Larson will be a member of a seven-man staff and is a big favorite with all of them, he said.

"We didn't have to call him in for interviews," Hayes added. "This man was our choice from last November."

The OSU coach reported that he first became interested in Larson during a chance meeting two years ago at the NCAA coaches convention in Philadelphia.

At the time, he was gathering information on Jerry Harbin and Bob Lister, current members of his OSU squad. Larson's ability to give a complete rundown on the two Harding stars, scholastically as well as athletically, impressed him.

HE ADDED that Larson asked to be considered for an Ohio State post two years ago. "But it was a low-pressure application," Hayes said. "He didn't come to us with his hat in his hand."

At that time Larson simply asked his name be considered for any openings in the future.

Last November a vacancy developed on the Buckeye staff but Clive Rush, a former Hayes assistant, was offered the chance to return from Oklahoma. He accepted and action on the Larson request was deferred.

Larson admitted he was accepting the post with mixed feelings.

"I feel very happy and honored not only to become a member of Woody's staff, but also to become a part of Ohio State University.

"My family and I certainly are going to hate leaving Marion because in the four and a half years we have made fine and wonderful friends," he added.

"I will miss most though, the great boys that I have had the privilege of coaching here," he

Chase Continues in Tennessee

Fleeing Convict Frees 4 Hostages Held 12 Hours

FLAT ROCK, Ala. (AP) — A fleeing convict freed a state patrolman, a married couple and a fellow convict near this north Alabama town early today after holding them hostage more than 12 hours.

The convict, William E. Smothers, continued his desperate bid for freedom in the married couple's car. The highway patrol said he was believed heading for Chattanooga, Tenn., where he has relatives.

Later the car was found abandoned near South Pittsburgh, Tenn., and police of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia converged on the area. At least 26 police cars were searching the hilly farming and mining section near the tri-state border area.

Serving 160 Years

Smothers, serving 160 years in prison on six robbery convictions, overpowered the patrolman and a trusty convict in a police car south of Birmingham Thursday.

"He used a key he made himself to unlock his handcuffs in the back seat of the car," said Patrolman Otto Dees.

"He was in the back seat and I was in the front. He got a strangle hold on me and held a piece of steel against me and took my gun."

Then, Dees said, Smothers ordered the trusty, Ted Easley, a convicted killer serving 25 years, to drive to the home of Smothers' sister. Mrs. Fulton Weems, at Birmingham, where Smothers got a suit and $10.

Just Drove Around

"Then we just drove around a while," Dees said, "until Smothers spotted a car parked in front of a house."

The three went inside the house and ordered Mr. and Mrs. Noel Keith to go with them in the Keith car. They left the police car parked behind the Keith house.

"All the time I kept trying to talk him out of it," Dees said. "I was afraid to try anything because of the Keiths being in the car."

Easley also tried to talk Smothers into giving up the idea of escaping, Dees said.

From Birmingham, Smothers and his four hostages, held at the point of Dees' revolver, headed north.

Near the tiny town of Flat Rock, Smothers ordered them to stop on the highway and told them to get out.

Dees, Easley and the Keiths walked to a farm house and telephoned state patrol headquarters.

At the time of his break, Smothers was being taken from Kilby Prison at Montgomery, Ala., to Birmingham to face trial on a charge of possessing a gun after conviction on a felony.

"We were about 25 miles south of Birmingham when he grabbed me," Dees said.

At Birmingham, Patrol Lt. James A. Daugherty, who led the early search for the missing persons, said Dees would be taken to Montgomery from Flat Rock.

Road blocks were thrown up in north Alabama and northwest Georgia.

Clues Sought To Slaying of 2 in Virginia

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) —Authorities are banking heavily on medical examinations for clues to the brutal slaying of a Louisa County man and his infant daughter.

Two bodies found Wednesday under a brush pile two miles west of here have been identified as those of Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, a feed truck driver, and 19-month-old Janet Jackson, missing since Jan. 11. Investigators hold little hope of finding alive Jackson's wife Mildred, 27, and their other daughter Susan Anne, 5.

The family vanished while driving from the home of Mrs. Jackson's parents to their own house in Louisa County, about 45 miles from the spot where the bodies were found by two men seeking sawdust mulch for a garden. Their abandoned car was found Jan. 12, keys still in the ignition.

State police said they had no clues to the slayer or the motive. They said much depended on examinations being conducted by Dr. Geoffrey T. Mann, state medical examiner.

"There are many, many questions that Dr. Mann will be able to answer for us," said investigator G. S. Cooper.

Mann said Jackson had been shot through the head. He estimated Jackson and the infant had been dead at least six weeks, which means the slayings occurred soon after the family disappeared.

Airliner Dives 4,000 Feet, 12 Persons Hurt

CHICAGO (AP) — A Chicago-bound Northwest Airlines plane, carrying 76 passengers went into an unexpected 4,000-foot dive in turbulent air as it neared Chicago Thursday night.

The sudden drop tossed passengers around the cabin of the four-engined DC6B craft. At least 12 persons were injured, most of them slightly. Two stewardesses and one passenger were hospitalized. Nine passengers were treated for minor injuries when the plane, from Minneapolis, landed at Midway Airport in a rainstorm.

Stewardess Miss Evelyn Lau, 21, of Honolulu, was knocked unconscious. Hospital officials said she suffered back injuries.

Others hospitalized were stewardess Jean Bohlin, 25, of Minneapolis, with face injuries; and Nan Sahli, 52, of Grosse Pointe Shores, Mich., with a fractured right ankle.

Macmillan, Eisenhower Will Confer

Series of Discussions On Berlin, Germany Will Open March 20

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower conferred with congressional leaders today on the Soviet threat to Berlin and possible Western moves. He and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will begin talks here March 20 on the problem.

The White House and Macmillan's office in London announced jointly that Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd will arrive here Thursday, March 19 "for informal discussions lasting a few days on the international situation." The discussions will begin Friday, March 20.

Conferred in Moscow

Macmillan has talked with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow.

Eisenhower welcomed Senate and House leaders of both political parties to his office. They were Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader of the Senate; Everett Dirksen of Illinois, Republican Senate leader; Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, top Democrat in the House; and Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader.

The President also included Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in the conference.

According to reports which have reached officials here since Macmillan's talks with Khrushchev, Macmillan will urge Eisenhower to reduce his conditions for a summit meeting.

The British leader is apparently convinced that at present Khrushchev is determined to push his demands for withdrawal of the Western powers from Berlin, and for a German peace treaty.

Ground To Be Covered

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said the Macmillan talks will cover "the evolving Berlin situation, the broader questions of Germany and of course Macmillan's visit to Moscow."

Hagerty denied the conference with congressional leaders was dictated by any emergency.

Hagerty said the congressional leaders would consider the same subjects discussed Thursday at a 1¾-hour special session of the National Security Council. He said that meeting covered "the evolving situation in Berlin and the broader question of Germany."

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy told a news conference meanwhile that he and the Joint Chiefs of Staff are agreed it would be virtually impossible for the Soviet Union to make a major surprise attack on this country with planes or missiles.

He took the position that the amount of preparation required would give this country advance warning if the U.S.S.R. should plan to launch an attack capable

Police, FBI Trail Sprenz Back to Ohio

String of Stolen Cars Is Believed Link to 'Flying Bank Robber'

CLEVELAND (AP) — The FBI concentrated its search for Frank Sprenz in the extreme northeast corner of Ohio today in the belief a series of reports of stolen cars may be connected with the wily fugitive.

The 29-year-old bank robber has led authorities on a merry chase through Ohio and Pennsylvania since he held up a Hamilton, Ohio, bank and got away with $25,955 Monday morning. The FBI said he was last seen in an Altoona, Pa., hotel Wednesday morning.

Since then, authorities believe these developments may be connected with Sprenz:

A Buick was purchased in Newcastle, Pa., Wednesday morning and abandoned a short time later in Titusville, Pa.

A Chrevolet was stolen in Titusville and abandoned in Pierpont, Ohio, 14 miles south of Conneaut.

Just before midnight Wednesday a stolen Buick was found near Ashtabula, Ohio. A little later came a report that a 1955 Oldsmobile bearing Ohio license plates ST322 was stolen in Ashtabula.

That's where the trail seems to end.

The FBI said there is no definite evidence Sprenz was connected with any of these cars, but added that the pattern seems to indicate he is.

Snow Blocks Roads

Storm Pounding 8 States in Midwest

By The Associated Press

A vast March storm today spread into new territory with driving snow and smashing winds.

The storm that had dumped up to 1½ feet of snow on eight Midwestern states was centered in Michigan this morning.

A squall that resembled a small tornado ripped out a 60 foot section of a wall of the Ford Motor Co. parts plant in Monroe, Mich. None of the 250 workers was hurt and operations continued.

A Greyhound bus was stranded on U.S. 27, about 12 miles south of Cheboygan, Mich. A snowplow was sent to the rescue but conditions were so bad it had to turn back.

Second Bus Marooned

Another Greyhound bus was reported marooned between Indian River and Alanson, Mich.

All schools in Cheboygan and surrounding counties were closed. St. Ignace was virtually isolated.

Iowa, staggering from the impact of the worst blizzard in 10 years, struggled to throw off its snowy straitjacket.

More than a dozen motorists spent the night on lounges and beds in a furniture store on the outskirts of Des Moines. One Des Moines motorist required 90 minutes to make a 10 block trip in his car.

Heading for Northeast

The storm was headed into the Northeast. Snowfall of 4 to 8 inches was forecast for northern Vermont and New Hampshire and Maine expected up to a foot.

Another major storm hit the Southeast. A record 9.87 inches of rain deluged the Charleston, S.C., airport in a 24-hour period. It measured 4.34 inches in downtown Charleston.

Apalachicola, Fla., was drenched by 7.51 inches of rain.

Winds reached gusts of 68 m.p.h. on the North Carolina shoreline. Gale warnings were hoisted between Charleston, S. C., and Cape Hatteras, N. C.

The Midwest battled to maintain normal functions amid heavy snow drifts.

La Crosse, Wis., came close to a standstill. All schools were closed. Several manufacturing plants shut their doors for a long weekend. Mail deliveries were canceled. Telephone service was placed on an emergency basis.

Wind, Snow, Rain Feature Weather Here

Wind and rain featured the weather picture for Marion County Thursday night, following a day in which the mercury rose to a high of 49 and rain fell late in the afternoon.

The wind rose as night fell, sending the mercury down to an overnight low of 34. Damage, however, was limited to relatively short term power failures.

A television antenna, falling into and breaking an electric power line at the rear of 143 N. Main St. about 4 a.m., knocked out some lights in an area extending both north and south of the Erie and New York Central railroad

Company Will File Notice With PUCO, Councilmen Are Told

Proposed new water rates calling for an average increase of 55 to 60 per cent were presented to City Council by the Marion Water Co. in a utilities committee-of-the-whole meeting Thursday night in the company offices at 195 E. Center St.

For the average residential consumer, the increase would be 60 per cent or about $1.73 a month. The average residential bill is now $2.88 per month and it would increase to $4.50 a month under the new rates, according to company calculations.

Range to 195 Per Cent

Applying to all classes of water service provided by the company, the proposed rate increases range from a low of 38.2 per cent for residential consumers using from 30,000 to 50,000 cubic feet a month, to 195.6 per cent on a special industrial service rate.

The new rate schedules also call for a 60 per cent increase in the minimum bimonthly charge to residential consumers having the normal three-quarter inch service pipe and using no more than 700 cubic feet of water each two months.

This minimum now is $4. Under the proposed new rates it would be $6.40 for the two-month period.

The new rates also would raise water service costs to schools and churches and fire hydrant rental costs of the city by 60 per cent.

$19,575 Increase to City

Richard Lister (R-at large) calculated this would mean an annual increase of $19,575 for the 725 fire hydrants installed in the city. Under the present rate, the city pays the water company $45 a year for each hydrant. The new rate would be $72 a year for each one.

Mr. Lister said that annual cost of the fire hydrants now is $32,625 and that it would increase to $52,200 a year under the new rate.

What, if anything, council can do about the rate increases remained in doubt at the close of last night's session.

L. Otis Porter, manager, and J. W. Heiney, president of the company, said they are willing to further talk over the proposal with council, but suggested the rates are not open to negotiation.

Will File With PUCO

They said that within the next few days, the company will file with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio a notice of intent to apply for the rate increase.

If approved by the commission, the new rates would become effective regardless of any opposition thrown up by council.

The company last asked for a rate increase of 25 per cent 10 years ago. Council at that time refused and the company went before the PUCO and obtained a 35 per cent increase—the added 10 per cent to cover company costs

Pioneer IV Signals Fade Out After 412,000 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pioneer IV vanished into space today and may never be heard from again.

The space probe tracking station at Goldstone, Calif., lost contact at 10:15 a.m. EST today when the probe's transmitting signals became very weak.

At that time the probe was traveling toward the sun at about 3,960 miles an hour, 412,000 miles from the earth.

The Goldstone station installed a special filter in its tracking gear and followed the space probe for an additional nine minutes.

The last contact was made at about 10:24 a.m.

Asked if there was any likelihood of further contact with Pioneer IV a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it was unlikely.

He added that since the probe's battery apparently had gone dead, it was unlikely that the Goldstone station would make any further search for it.

"We think that this is it," he said.

"Pioneer IV is gone forever."

Earlier the gold plated cone had been sending clear signals from more than 400,000 miles out. Goldstone picked them up at 7:50 a. m.

They came from a point deeper in the great void than any transmission ever before recorded.

NASA scientists calculated the distance at 403,000 miles and the

Ottawa Calls for Peace Pipe

Indians Go on Warpath, Set Up 'State' in Ontario

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP) — Indians on the warpath have proclaimed a vest-pocket independent state in Ontario and demanded immediate recognition.

They threaten to go to the United Nations if Canada doesn't play ball.

The Canadian government's first reaction was to wait and see. A veiled offer was held out to smoke the pipe of peace.

Rebellious warriors, carrying hatchets and wearing warpaint and feathered headdress, staged the bloodless coup Thursday and overthrew the Canadian government-sponsored council of 11 men in the Six Nations Reserve.

Some 20 hereditary tribal chiefs branded the council a puppet government and seized administrative control of the 12-mile-square reserve west of Toronto and Buffalo, N.Y.

The old council slipped out the back door just before the assault.

"We are satisfied that the revolution is a success and will not be put down," a rebel spokesman declared.

The chiefs ruled the reserve and its community of Oshweken until 1924, when the Canadian government stripped them of power and vested authority in an 11-man elected council. The dissident faction refused to recognize the council and continued to hold meetings in their traditional long houses.

Aging Chief Joseph Logan Sr. sent off telegrams to Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Queen Elizabeth II, announcing the new nation.

The choir will be under the direction of George Lane. His wife will be at the organ. Edward Miller will conduct the orchestra with Tony Pranses of Upper Sandusky as principal violinist.

Appearing first on the program, the choir will present anthems representing composers from the Bach era to the 20th century. Orchestra numbers will be works from the pen of religious classicists.

THE TWO GROUPS will join in rendering "Festival Finale" as the concluding selection on the program. The number is a special arrangement of "God of Our Fathers," done for chorus and orchestra by Joseph E. Maddy, founder of Interlochen Music Camp.

Choir anthems will be: "Grant Us To Do With Zeal," by Bach; "Sanctus" by Schubert; "God So Loved the World" from "The Crucifixion" by Stainer; "I Sing the Mighty Power of God" by Austin Lovelace; "Psalm 100" by Roth; "Were You There," a Negro spiritual arranged by Mr. Lane, and "Thy Word Is a Light" by Haydn Morgan.

Orchestra offerings will be two Bach airs, "Komm Susser Tod" and "Sarabande," "Andante Religioso" by F. J. Thome and "Agnes Dei" by Bizet.

MR. MILLER is in his second season as director of the recently organized instrumental group. He holds a B.S. degree in music from Miami University and currently is working toward a master's degree at Kent State University. He is an instrumental music instructor in city public schools.

An experienced violinist, Mr. Pranses has played with the Pittsburgh Symphony and Lima Symphony Orchestras. He was trained under Ralph Lewando of Pittsburgh, music critic for the "Pittsburgh Press." Mr. Pranses is in his first season with the local orchestra. He is manager of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant in Upper Sandusky. His son, Randall, plays in the second violin section.

Also an instrumental music instructor in city public schools, Mr. Lane has directed the Epworth Choir eight years. Before that, he was the choir director at Central Christian Church. He holds a B.S. degree in music from Capital University and a master's degree from Columbia University. He is principal cellist in the Marion Symphony.

Former director of music in the First Presbyterian Church at Mount Vernon, Mrs. Lane has been Epworth organist for eight years. She also directs the junior choir at the church. She holds a B.S. in music degree from Capital University.

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A Jersey cow on the farm of Michael Askerman near here gave birth to quadruplet calves this week, but one of them died shortly after birth. Wilbur Roberts, Stark County agriculture agent, said the birth of quadruplet calves happens only about once in every 100,000 births.

Airliner Crashes In Nicaragua, 4 Americans Killed

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Four Americans were among 14 persons killed Thursday when a four-engine airliner crashed just after taking off from Managua.

The four survivors were an American stewardess, a Canadian stewardess and two passengers. They were rescued by cowboys working nearby.

The plane, a Vickers Viscount of TACA International Airlines, had just taken off for New Orleans.

Witnesses said two engines failed when the craft was about half a mile from the end of the runway. The pilot apparently tried to make a belly landing in a muddy field near the airport but the plane bounced back into the air and came down on its back.

The rescued stewardesses were Nancy Miesgoda, 20, of Mannington, W. Va., and Laura Direnzo, 20, of Ontario, Canada. They were hospitalized.

The American dead were the pilot, Capt. Albert M. Vine, and the copilot, M. S. Dalen, both of New Orleans; and two passengers, Joseph Rhodes, a New Orleans business executive, and Kenneth Kilpatric, of Lockney, Tex.

Also killed was former Mexican congressman Juan Gutierrez Lascurain, who headed Mexico's opposition National Action Party from 1949 to 1956.

TACA has its headquarters in El Salvador but is a subsidiary of the TACA Corp. of Alabama. The line has operated in Latin America for 26 years.

Sales Stunt Backfires For Stores in Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 10th anniversary promotion stunt backfired at Lane Avenue Shopping Center here. Merchants offered to honor 1948 dimes for dollar purchases. After customers threatened to clean out store merchandise with a flood of dimes, the merchants called off their offer.

They learned later that 163,311,000 dimes were minted in 1948—a large annual issue for any year.

School Won't Seek Land in Grand Prairie

The Ridgedale Board of Education Thursday night ruled out any application for a section of the old Scioto Ordnance land scheduled to be auctioned soon by the General Services Administration.

Supt. Fred D. Goare said the board discussed the possibility of requesting some of the land but decided "it wouldn't be suited to our purposes." Mr. Goare said the board felt it would be difficult to use the land in connection with the school's development plan.

The land which was under consideration by the board covers about 103 acres in Grand Prairie Township. Another 800 acres are scheduled to be sold at auction in Marion Township.

The City of Marion has made application for a 25-acre tract in Grand Prairie Township for possible dump or park purposes. That application is being opposed by residents and trustees of the township.

In other business last night, the Ridgedale board authorized a four-month leave of absence beginning Sept. 1 for Mrs. Arlene Gregory, a school cook.

The board also discussed proposed school bills being considered by the Ohio General Assembly.

JEPHTHAH'S DAUGHTER

"And Jephthah came to Mizpeh unto his house, and, behold, his daughter came out to meet him . . ."
—Judges 11:34

Jephthah, a brave but misguided judge of Israel, lived in the land of Gilead, east of the Sea of Galilee.

As a youth he was expelled from his father's house by his brothers because he was an illegitimate child. He fled into the mountains and became a robber chief. Later, however, he was called by the people to lead them in their fight against the Ammonites, a warlike people who had invaded Israel.

Jephthah held the false belief that he could bargain with God and gain the Lord's help in accomplishing his own undertakings.

The night before his battle with the Ammonites, he was sleepless and fearful. Sitting in his tent, he asked himself: "Whence cometh this foreboding?" And it seemed a voice within him answered, "Have you not forsaken His way? Whence cometh this fear?"

"I have no fear," Jephthah told himself. "I am a man of valor. I have strength in battle. But I would win this encounter for the Lord's sake."

Yet he heard the voice within him say, "Nay, for thyself."

To make sure of victory, he made a vow that if he won the battle, he would offer as a burnt sacrifice the first thing that came out of his house to meet him upon his return from battle.

In his fear and superstition, perhaps he thought he would first be met by a dog, or a donkey, or at worst a slave.

Instead, to his horror, when he came back, his own daughter and only child, "came out to meet him with timbrels and dances" to celebrate his victory.

When Jephthah saw this, "he rent his clothes and said. Alas, my daughter! Thou hast brought me very low." He told her sadly of his vow to God, and foolishly said he could not now recall his vow, even if it meant the death of his own child.

His daughter, ignorant as her father of the true faith given by Moses, heroically agreed to help him fulfill his terrible vow. She asked only that she might be allowed two months to go into the mountains with some friends to bewail her fate.

At the end of two months she dutifully returned to her father, "who did with her according to his vow."

Thus, Jephthah knew no real happiness in achieving his goal, for in reaching it, he sacrificed what was dearest to him, and the life of another.

God has never asked for such a sacrifice as a prize of victory.

Francis B. Knight, boatswain's mate first class, local Navy recruiter, announced today he has received orders to report for duty March 20 aboard the destroyer USS Glennon in Newport, R. I.

He said his replacement is not scheduled to arrive in Marion until May. Until then, the Mansfield recruiter, Joseph Schmidt, chief gunner's mate, will be in the Marion recruiting office at 132½ S. Main St. one day a week, he said.

Petty Officer Knight, a veteran of 15½ years in the Navy, was assigned to recruiting duty in Marion March 18, 1957.

Gold was discovered in Montana in 1861.

Reserve Hikes Discount Rate

Anti-Inflation Move Affects 4 Key Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indicating concern about a possible upturn in inflation, the Federal Reserve Board increased the discount rate at four reserve banks effective today.

The discount rate will rise to 3 per cent from 2½ per cent at reserve banks in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Dallas. Similar increases are expected later at the eight other banks in the system.

The move toward tighter money came as a surprise. An increase in the discount rate—the interest charged when member banks borrow from the reserve system—usually portends a rise in other interest charges.

The board's announcement was made Thursday after the close of the New York markets. In Los Angeles, where the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange was still open, prices went down fractionally.

Flying Boxcar Crashes At Cherry Point, 8 Dead

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (AP)—Eight Marines died early today when their Flying Boxcar crashed here in a driving rainstorm. One man survived.

The big transport was approaching the Marine air station at 1:30 a.m. when it crashed.

The survivor was Acting Sgt. Ralph J. Mauro Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Mauro of Hamden, Conn. He was taken to the hospital at Camp Lejeune in critical condition.

Negligence Cited In Little Rock Fire

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — State fire officials moved today to place or absolve blame for a pre-dawn blaze which killed 21 teen-agers at the Negro Boys Industrial School Thursday.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who visited the scene at nearby Wrightsville while the ruins smouldered, called the tragedy inexcusable. He said it could not have happened "except for the negligence of someone."

Sixty-nine youths between the ages of 15 and 18 were locked in a dormitory in the north wing of a large building which was leveled less than an hour after the blaze was discovered.

Forty-eight escaped death by fleeing through windows after kicking out heavy metal screens. The doors to the building were never unlocked. No one with a key was in the building when the fire broke out.

Midwest Voices Indignation

Action Against Mobsters Demanded by Dakotans

By VICTOR RIESEL

BISMARK, N.D.

A great wind soon will be roaring east across the plains. On it will ride the noise of protests from people who haven't lost their verve for indignation — nor their wonderment at the asphalt jungles crawling with mobsters, pushing giant cities around.

VICTOR RIESEL

Here the people of the grain and oil and gas fields — like the citizenry along the 2,000 miles I've rolled from Washington and New York — want to know why there is no law to rob the rackets of their power.

Why come to Bismark? You come because the people ask you to come and explain. (Someone whimsically points out that it is the geographic center of North America.) You report that you have polled much of the Senate — and that the senators say that there will be an anti-racketeering labor law.

But, the people ask, when? And, they ask, why is there so much haggling over the 80 bills which have been introduced in Congress to fight the crime syndicates' infiltration of labor?

THERE ARE questions about the new pension and welfare law passed to protect some 40 billion dollars worth of insurance against old age, sickness and heart-break from idleness. A check shows that the Labor Department's new Division of Welfare and Pension Reports is now a vast file fortress with some 250,000 forms submitted by fund trustees — and probably another 250,000 reports flooding in. But they really can't be checked. Nowhere is there the power to dig into these pension and welfare documents for evidence of willfully crooked filing.

People ask about the section of the Taft-Hartley law which requires the filing of union financial statements. There are thousands of these statements in the U.S. Labor Department cabinets. But there is no way in which the secretary of labor can probe them. Nor can they be made public. No one has the right to audit them.

Yet we know that the business card - letterhead type of racket union just exposed by the McClellan committee files so it can operate as a legitimate union under the protective labor laws of the land.

We know that hundreds of tiny outfits with pompous sounding names, used only for shakedowns, hide their expenditures under such items as office furniture and administrative expenses.

WE KNOW that 63 per cent of all local unions in the U.S. have less than 200 members. Thousands of these are regular units. Yet in this 63 per cent are the mob outfits.

There is, for example, Local 134, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, with less than 200 members in its coin machine division, which has been described at McClellan committee hearings as the "enforcing arm" for the mob controlling the Chicago juke box field.

There are no standards, there are no regulations for such unions. Many need no one's permission to print a charter and go into business with professional pickets. One such picket exposed by Bob Kennedy's probers had five business cards on him, each with a different union name. He would picket one store or tavern, then call up and take an assignment for another picketing stint and simply present the proper card to the police official when questioned.

Another goon, specialist in mayhem, printed himself 12 charters, each with the name of a fake union —but each with the power to picket. He had a regular price list for removal of pickets and ending of other harassments.

OUT HERE they don't understand why anyone permits blackmail picketing — and why there is no law against it. These people are far away but let no wise guy talk about everybody north of Broadway and 52nd St. being yokels. They deal with Teamster locals, Building and Consctruction Trades, Oil Workers, and Packinghouse hands in both Dakotas.

True, the Bismark and Fargo Teamsters voted for Hoffa at the last Miami convention. They used to be a rough crowd back in the days when they were run by the even tougher Minneapolis Teamster headquarters. But neither here nor over the border in South Dakota do the folks let themselves get pushed around.

If there are any rackets, the people haven't found them nor have they passed them on to their "home town boy," Sen. Karl Mundt, vice chairman of the McClellan committee. And he was home two weeks ago, ready to talk to all comers.

The folks here want to know what's the matter with all you Down-Easterners—and Westerners, too.

'Refugee Year' Planned By Churches of World

NEW YORK (AP)—This year has been designated "Refugee Year" by the World Council of Churches, in line with a United Nations drive to "close the camps by 1960."

Dr. Edgar H. S. Chandler, head of the Council's Service to Refugees, says that for the first time in history it is possible to see an end to Europe's refugee problem. But the council, which so far has resettled 200,000 refugees, says it will take more than a year to do it even with intensified effort.

Candidates Discuss the Issues

The public discussion by two mayoralty candidates at the UAW-CIO Hall Wednesday night was one of the best things happening on the local political scene in years.

In the fairly recent past Marion mayoralty campaigns have been marked by almost complete inactivity and from the standpoint of the issues and beliefs of the candidates there has been little if anything upon which to base an intelligent vote.

MORE GROUND was covered in Wednesday's discussion by Mayor Wendell L. Strong (R) and R. Guy Bigelow (D) than in any similar session in the last half dozen years.

We hope there are more such forums before the primary and that all four candidates are able to participate in subsequent meetings.

There were both hopeful signs and discouraging ones in the discussion.

From their experiences in successive administrations, former Safety-Service Director Bigelow and Mayor Strong agreed that a city income tax is necessary.

Both discovered in office that a modern city cannot keep pace with needs without adequate funds and that an income tax is the only logical answer.

MR. BIGELOW'S idea of financing sewers by the income tax is interesting but only the storm sewer program should be paid for by that method, in our opinion.

The sewer service charge has proved workable for sanitary sewer improvements, people are accustomed to it and it would be dangerous to trade a sure thing for an uncertainty.

We agree with Mr. Strong that the neglect of many years on a street repair program can't be compensated for overnight. But we must start sometime, and very soon.

We likewise concur with his statement that there is a limit on how much pressure can be exerted on suburban residents to force annexation.

At some point in the procedure a wish to align themselves with the city on a voluntary basis must be created among the residents.

Mr. Strong's agreement with a statement from the audience that the southeast suburban sewer project killed the chances of annexing that area must have been politically inspired.

If anything the construction of the sewer should have enhanced chances for annexation, and in at least some areas we are certain it did.

In a mention of a "four-foot sewer" in that section the mayor obviously is inferring that the sewer was improperly constructed.

If he has actual information to that effect why doesn't he make detailed charges and bring the matter out into the open?

We agree with the mayor that the city should not get too far into the off-street parking business, but as usual we violently disagree with him on his traffic ideas.

IN CONTINUING to advocate a highway bypass after all the work that has been done on the one-way street program, he very clearly demonstrates why Marion has been so slow in getting its traffic project off the ground.

If the mayor doesn't know by now why the downtown program should be completed before a highway bypass is contemplated, he never will.

Visit Science Fair

Marion residents should make it a point this weekend to visit Harding High School to see the first Science Fair of the city school system.

Science projects from every public school in the city — elementary through high school — will be exhibited.

Displays of older students will be judged by a 32-member panel of engineers, scientists and teachers. More than 300 projects are expected to be entered. Subject matter will range from botany to zoology.

The Science Fair will be set up in the school's gymnasium and may be viewed from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

The displays represent a lot of work on the part of students and their teachers. They will show to what extent scientific matters have captured the imagination of the city's youngsters.

Plenty To Uncover in Liquor Board

Gov. DiSalle is sure to have fertile ground for study when he digs into the operations of the State Liquor Board, as he announced Monday he will do.

It is certain that too many bad eggs have been allowed to exist in the state's basket of permit holders. The vast majority of businesses that dispense liquor have operated honestly and within the law. The relatively few exceptions — the bad eggs — have been permitted too often to retain their permits despite indications they did not intend to abide fully by the regulations.

The State Liquor Department's enforcement arm has done a relatively good job under the last three governors. It has found violations and inflicted punishment. But in too many cases the board itself, acting as a court of appeal, has erased the punishment and allowed the violators to continue operating and sometimes continue violating the regulations.

IN OTHER CASES, violators who have been unsuccessful before the liquor board have appealed to Franklin County Common Pleas Court at Columbus and been restored their permits.

The setup has not been good.

Ohio's liquor laws were framed to provide certain individuals and business with the right to retail liquor, wine and beer. No one but a permit holder can do it legally. The liquor department's regulations safeguard the public and the permit holder on such things as hours of sale, prohibition of gambling or other law violations and operating decently with respect to maintaining order and refusing to serve intoxicated persons.

When the regulations are violated, the permit holder should be punished or removed from the business. Gov. DiSalle wants to know why violations have not been dealt with adequately in all cases.

TWO PRACTICES that most obviously need correction are (1) the too-frequent tendency for the board to overrule the liquor department on penalties and (2) the custom of assigning court appeals to Franklin County.

Columbus was chosen as the locale for court hearings as a convenience to the liquor board members. Each case, however, should be heard in the county of its origin, where prosecution and defense both can marshal their forces best.

That's the way it is with other court cases. That's the way it should be with liquor violations.

174 Million Yanks Can't Be Wrong

It was a bad break for 174 million Americans last week when a speech by President Eisenhower to the U.S. Savings Bond Conference was not widely distributed by the press.

The President laid his philosophy of fiscal soundness on the line for Spendocrats. He said he thought 174 million Americans should be the ultimate authority on federal spending and then proceeded to talk turkey about the difference between being a Spendocrat and an ordinary American.

"If we ever reach the point where people believe that speculation is safe and saving is a gamble," President Eisenhower said, "then we are in serious trouble. . . . If we are going to maintain our economic soundness, we have to pay the interest on our debts, and we have to do those things that could be classed as necessary — of high priority in our whole federal field. Each should be arranged in accordance to the importance and its priority. We must always remember that if the pressures of any particular group or a combination of groups keep us in an area of deficit spending — in order to get for the moment more dollars for itself — that will defeat not only the country but each group."

The President was speaking on the subject closest to his heart — the integrity of the United States. He was speaking about the thing of greatest importance to the American people — the value of the money they earn and the money they have saved. He was speaking to his fellow Americans about the Spendocrats whose passion for deficit financing and contempt for unbalanced budgets is beginning to make it hard for the U.S. Treasury to carry the country's 286-billion-dollar debt and its interest charges of eight billion each year. No other subject in 1959 is more important.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Conrad Hilton, who builds hotels as effortlessly as a man might build bird houses, has a new one in Cairo. We read about it and dreamt we had a room overlooking the Pyramids, with a breeze from the Sphinx. We later decided to tour Cairo and ordered the doorman, "Call me a camel!"

Hilton displays more confidence in the world situation than any free-world leader. No perilous situations scare him. He is running short of countries in which to build.

Nasser and Tito were guests opening night, and Tito is reported saying he would like to have a Hilton-Yugoslavia hotel in the large (not the economy) size package.

It might be smart to name Conrad to handle the East-West Berlin crisis. In no time he could have both sides engrossed in hotel blueprints and asking questions about tower-suites, ballroom reservations, elevators and restaurant service instead of roadblocks and ultimatums.

Conrad has so many hotels all over the earth that in case of war there would be enough Hilton hotel bellhops, waiters, chefs, cooks and assistant managers to hold the line until the army arrived.

The Havana Hilton went through the Cuban revolt with little trouble, in fact Fidel Castro in a sumptuous suite there restored order. In no other hotel could a guest phone down, "There's a noisy party in the next room. Send up a revolutionist to see that I get some peace and rest." Or call room service and say, "Send me up bacon and eggs, some buttered toast and word from Castro not to worry about anything."

Sorry, I Can't Afford It

Steps Short of War

By David Lawrence

Common sense is more important than the wiles of diplomacy, and that's why President Eisenhower's remarks deploring excessive talk about war and threats of war could have a sobering effect just now on international relations.

Lawrence

The president had ample opportunity at his press conference to be blustering and accusatory but he dealt with Khrushchev's peculiar tactics in the Berlin crisis by using the mild words of restraint.

As Mr. Eisenhower sees it, the United States has certain responsibilities in maintaining, under treaty rights, the present status of Berlin. He welcomes negotiation and discussion by the four foreign ministers.

More and more it is becoming apparent that the Kremlin dictatorship would like to scare the West into some form of abject submission and that behind its every move is propaganda designed to assure the Soviet people that the Kremlin rulers are winning big victories.

To some extent Khrushchev has succeeded in scaring some members of Congress, as they are already calling for partial or total mobilization in this country. To yield to this sentiment would be a mistake, Mr. Eisenhower thinks, because there is no telling how long such an uncomfortable posture would have to be maintained. In all likelihood the Kremlin would be glad to inflict a costly and prolonged inconvenience of this kind on the American people.

MODERN WAR doesn't require any large-scale mobilization if it's to be nuclear. Airplanes are in readiness, both in the United States and at Western bases in Europe, to inflict severe punishment on an enemy if war comes.

If the military moves are confined to ground action in the vicinity of Berlin, then it is reasonable to suppose that the forces of NATO are already mobilized for this. Also, it is likely that, long before any such steps were taken, the intentions of both sides would be made plain and the United Nations would have an opportunity to vote to intervene.

What seems to have been generally overlooked is that there are steps "short of war" which can be taken by the West. These could be far more effective than actual threats of war.

One course of action could be the cutting off of all diplomatic relations between the West and the East. This could be followed by simultaneous discontinuance of all commercial intercourse, as well as other forms of communication by air or by sea.

If, for instance, all ports of the Western nations were closed to Soviet shipping, it would be difficult for the Communist empire to maintain its commercial relations with points in the Middle East and Asia. The Trans-Siberian Railway is not equipped to carry all the freight to Red China that goes to that country, for instance, from the Eastern European satellites.

A TOTAL EMBARGO would serve notice that the West means to stand on its treaty rights and that any imposition of barriers to free communication with Berlin would result not in a contest of military force but in a cessation of all traffic with East Germany and the other areas now controlled by the Soviet government.

To impose an embargo would require Allied agreement and this is by no means easy to effectuate. But it is a better plan than to try to resolve the differences between the East and West by military force.

President Eisenhower keeps emphasizing that the United States is not wedded to any single formula in trying to solve the problems raised by Moscow in connection with the status of Berlin. It had been hoped that, by means of free elections, a solution could be achieved.

BUT SINCE the Soviets do not wish to permit free elections in East Germany, the United States has taken the flexible position that some other solution might well be examined. This does not mean it will necessarily be accepted but simply that there is a readiness at least to talk about any plan.

One point that has not been given much attention is that, when Moscow breaks the inter-allied treaty giving the Western military forces access to Berlin, this makes a "scrap of paper" out of a solemn agreement. Of what value, it will then be asked throughout the world, are any other agreements or pledges given by the Soviet government?

The Western nations, therefore, are waiting for the deadline in May when the Soviet government, if it crarries out its published threat, will have announced to the world that, acting entirely on its own, it is deliberately breaking an international agreement.

This, in turn, could invalidate all other agreements between the East and West and lead not necessarily to war but to a "quarantine" by the West against the Soviet dictatorship such as President Franklin D. Roosevelt proposed in 1937 against the dictatorship of Hitler and the Nazis. Had this plan been agreed to then by our Allies, it is conceivable that World War II might have been prevented. That's why firmness now on measures "short of war" could avert a third world war.

Discouraging Words

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Things I hope never to hear in my old age:

HAL BOYLE

"Let's give this job to the Old Man. Even he can't foul up this one."

"Now Dad, you're too sensitive. Of course, we're glad to see you every time you drop in. What makes you think we're not?"

"It's hard to know what really will amuse them at that age."

"Stop arguing and put on your muffler. You know you catch colds so easily."

"You do? You should have seen how he looked when he was only 60."

"SH-H-H-H! Don't talk so loud. Everything's gone but his ears."

"Of course he still likes that suit. After all it was fashionable in his time."

"But really, Grandpa, you must have at least SEEN some covered wagons."

"We've got too many older people working for us now. What this organization needs is young blood."

"Go ahead and have another drink. The doctor says it's good for you."

"Our paper plans to run a series of interviews with the town's oldest citizens, and we thought you'd—"

"SORRY ABOUT the health insurance. You're beyond the age bracket. However, we can still sell you an accident policy."

"Wonder who left their false teeth in the men's washroom?"

"Let's give him something really useful for his birthday. How about a rocking chair?"

"That's the trouble with men your age, Dad. You're afraid to gamble on the future. Now, if you'll just lend me—"

"He's so forgetful. If he tells the story just one more time, I'll scream."

"Wonder what he thinks about when he sits there just staring."

"It's not that he's underfoot exactly. He's just there."

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

". . . And plans for the year include 87 miles of paved freeway which will require 342 miles of paved intersections leading ONTO the freeway!"

Cabinet Changes Due

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

All in all President Eisenhower has had pretty good luck with the longevity of his Cabinet even though he's had practically two Cabinets in six years.

All but three members of the original Cabinet he picked in 1953 are gone. But most of the men who took their places are still there. The one exception is Marion B. Folsom, who succeeded Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby as secretary of health, education and welfare and in turn was succeeded last year by Arthur S. Flemming.

Now, however, Eisenhower's Cabinet may face a double dent.

SECRETARY OF STATE, John Foster Dulles, a member of the original Cabinet, is fighting cancer and it is questionable whether he will resume his job. Thursday Neil H. McElroy, secretary of defense, confirmed reports he is leaving sometime this year.

It so happens that Dulles and McElroy — next to Eisenhower himself — are the two most important men in relation to American foreign affairs at a time when this country is facing a critical showdown with the Soviet Union over Germany.

McElroy, 54, told a news conference he planned to resign "toward the end of this year." He is going back into private business whence he came in 1957 to boss the Pentagon when Charles E. Wilson quit as secretary.

IT HAS BEEN estimated it would take any outsider like McElroy, going into his defense job, at least 18 months to master his problems and reach the point where he could function at his best.

This would be true if a strict outsider were brought in. But there have been reports that Eisenhower will move Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, into the secretary's spot when McElroy says goodbye.

Quarles is no novice in the Pentagon. He has been there quite a while, as deputy secretary since May 1, 1957, and before that as secretary of the air force and assistant secretary of defense.

McELROY WILL be setting no precedent by resigning the defense secretary's job after a limited stay and at a serious moment.

Gen. George C. Marshall was made secretary of defense by President Truman in September 1950, a few months after the start of the Korean War. He stayed in the job one year, and resigned during the war.

Truman reached into the Defense Department for Marshall's successor. He picked Robert A. Lovett, also a businessman, who had been Marshall's deputy secretary of defense.

Truman had pulled Marshall out of retirement — the general had been ill — to help out during the Korean War and Marshall told him his stay in the Pentagon might be temporary.

McELROY SAID Thursday he had told Eisenhower, when the latter appointed him defense secretary in 1957, that he would want to be relieved before the end of the administration.

But Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that McElroy has a sense of duty and: "If things get tighter, well, I just don't think he would forget."

Actually, if McElroy waits till near the end of the year to quit, the crisis over Germany may have flattened out.

Besides Dulles, the only members of Eisenhower's original Cabinet still with him are Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Low Budget Diversion

By Truman Twill

It is the smart thing among young suburbanites in the New York City area to think up offbeat diversions that can be indulged in at less than $10 a couple per occasion.

They band together in "Crazy Couple Clubs" to share ideas. The members have grown tired of doing the things everybody else in their social stratum has a tendency to do when it is time for a night out.

They have reached the point where it makes no sense to blow $50 or $60 for dinner, a show and a little something afterward—the "big evening" pattern of the denizen of New York City. So they looked for something to relieve their boredom.

They whoop it up in hash houses, amusement parks and wrestling shows. They have been entertained by hypnotists, character analysts and lecturers. Each couple puts $10 into a kitty, which then is made to stretch over an evening's entertainment by a host and hostess. If a club has 12 couples in it, that's $120—and for $120 a lot of laughs can be bought.

At this point, the idea is likely to sound familiar to members of a generation old enough to bear the scars of the Great Depression.

There used to be a lot of budget-saving diversion in depression days. It was common in this part of the country, so presumably it was not unknown among New Yorkers.

The difference was that no one then had grown accustomed to blowing in a week's income for a night out. Budget-saving was not an alternative to something that once had been expensive but a way of life dictated by economic necessity.

Everybody had to remember at all times that the other fellow might be down to his last buck, because that is the way things were in those days. But with tactful inquiry, if it could be ascertained that everybody in the crowd was flush, someone would initiate for a "dutch" excursion.

These pay-as-you-go outings would be interspersed with grander affairs whenever one couple or another had a windfall. There also was the joint-account project, in which two, three, four, or more, couples might split the cost of a shindig.

After the depression was over and all the survivors were in clover, at least comparatively, they reminisced about the good times they used to have. To be sure, some of the reminiscence was like recollections of how good their mothers' cooking once tasted, but more than their golden youth was involved.

There was a special kind of fun to be had in that kind of diversion. It is said that millions of people lived more happily during the depression than before, because they had to work harder at enjoying one another's company.

They were too busy to be bored. They learned how to get their laughs in out-of-the-way places, doing odd-ball things.

To this day they will tell you—if you ask them—that they never had such a good time. It never occurred to them they were doing anything noteworthy, but the depression was a long time ago. A lot of diversion has gone over the dam since then. Being bored is easier than it used to be.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Confident that President Wilson would be compelled by the impending chaotic conditions to convene a special session of the 66th Congress, probably for June 1, House Republicans entered upon their reorganization work, determined to announce the personnel of their legislative staff by the end of the day.

Gen. Ludendorff, former quartermaster of the German army, was advised to leave Sweden by the Swedish government after the foreign office had learned that the Entente probably would demand his surrender.

The Bavarian government at Munich was purely Bolshevist and in close touch with the Russian Soviet government at Moscow, according to information received from London.

20 YEARS AGO — Diego Martinez Barrio, president of the Spanish parliament, declared that the seizure of power in Republican Spain by a national defense council "must lead to peace." Barrio said he was fully in accord with the six-man council which deposed Premier Juan Negrin.

Gov. Bricker proclaimed March 31 as Arbor Day.

10 YEARS AGO — A Russian member of the United Nations staff and a woman employe of the Department of Justice were arrested in New York and charged with stealing American secrets. Those arrested were Judith Coplon and Valentine A. Gubitchev.

Andrei A. Vinshinsky replaced Vyacheslav M. Molotov as foreign minister of Russia in a momentous shift. Russia's second most important official in dealing with the outside world. Foreign Trade Minister A. I. Mikoyan also was replaced by his deputy, M. A. Menshikov.

Man Fined $200, Costs In Mount Gilead Court

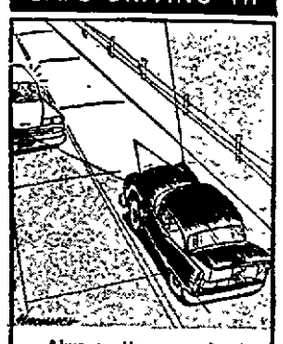
A Columbus driver was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in Morrow County Jail Thursday on a charge of unsafe operation, arresting patrolmen of the Marion post reported today.

They said James Thompson, 50, was sentenced after he failed to appear in court in answer to the charge last June.

A warrant was signed for his arrest and Thompson was picked up Thursday in Columbus and dispatched to Mount Gilead Mayor's Court where his case was tried.

Officers said the citation made last June in Morrow County represented the fifth driving offense which Thompson had chalked up in 1958.

SAFE DRIVING TIP



Always dim your headlights when another car approaches.

If the oncoming motorist fails to dim his lights, do not retaliate by shining your brights in his eyes. The Chicago Motor Club points out that this will blind both of you temporarily and may cause a head-on collision.

Instead, flick your brights off and on. This will let the other driver know his lights are impairing your vision. If he still refuses to dim his lights, there are three things you should do: Reduce your speed, pull as close to the right edge of the road as possible, and keep your eyes on the right edge of the roadside pavement to escape as much glare as possible.

River Victim Was Father of Local Resident

A man found dead in the Scioto River Thursday morning along Rt. 257 in Delaware County just north of the Franklin County line is the father of a Marion resident. He was identified as Willis W. Hill, 65, of Dublin and his son here is Walter D. Hill of 807 Oak Grove Ave.

State patrolmen reported today that an initial autopsy performed at University Hospital in Columbus Thursday attributed death to drowning. A coroner's ruling has not yet been returned and the incident still is under investigation by Delaware County sheriff's deputies and the patrol post there.

The officers said the autopsy showed that Hill's head and face were considerably bruised. The injuries were described only as superficial wounds, however.

Investigation revealed that Hill's car had been abandoned along the highway, about 150 feet from where his body was found, officers said. They added the gas tank was empty.

Mr. Hill's family in Dublin reported he had been missing since Monday night when they identified the body Thursday. Patrolmen said it appeared the body had been in water for some time.

It was found in the mouth of a small creek below an embankment about 12 feet high. Officers theorized that he could have fallen over the embankment at the spot and the body remained there.

They said the body was found in about one and one-half feet of water. It was noted, however, that the water level had varied considerably between Monday night and Thursday morning.

A state highway department bridge crew in the area spotted the body about 8:15 a.m. Thursday and notified the patrol.

Hill assisted sons in operating a Pure Oil Service Station in Dublin.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Deborah Hill, who resides in Richwood; the son in Marion; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Orr of Dublin and Mrs. Paul Askins of Westerville; three other sons in Dublin, Charles, Richard and Carl Hill; 11 grandchildren, and a sister, Miss Martha Hill of Elkhart, Ind. His wife, Mrs. Helen Hill, died eight years ago and a daughter, Miss Louise Hill of Dublin, preceded him in death three weeks ago.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 1 p.m. in the Corbin Funeral Home at Worthington. Burial will be in York Center Cemetery in Union County. Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p.m. Saturday.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am desperate and don't know anyone well enough to ask for advice. We moved to this city a year ago and that was when my young daughter got into a bad crowd.

She is only 16 and I'm sure she's in trouble. Everything is tight on her. She can't be getting plump from overeating because she's been nauseated every morning for two months and hardly eats anything. Yet when I hint to her she says, "Everything is just fine."

My next-door neighbor's daughter had a baby and the boy didn't marry her. They knew somebody who paid the bills and took the baby and gave it to good people.

Should I ask my neighbor about this? I have heard of homes for unwed mothers but I don't know where they are. Please help me. My husband died last year and we can't afford much.—AGNUS.

Dear Agnus: Don't HINT. Tell your daughter you're not blind and that you know perfectly well she's in trouble. Skip the sermon. It's too late. Tell her she needs medical care and she must stop running away from reality.

Call the Family Service Bureau or the Salvation Army. In (or near) every community there are facilities for unwed mothers.

Stick to the legitimate agencies and don't become involved with neighbors who "know somebody." All too frequently, a panicky mother or a frightened young girl falls into unscrupulous hands with tragic results. Good luck.

Person to Person

Dear Ann: I'm a freshman in high school and have never asked a girl for a date. I want to break the ice next month for the school hop.

A certain gal I like very much is my first choice. We've known each other for years. In fact, her mother and my mother are good friends, and my dad plays golf with her dad.

Shall I ask my mother to talk to her mother? Shall I call her mother? Or shall I have my dad talk to her dad?

Please hurry the advice. I want to get this straight in my head.—ROCKY.

Dear Rocky: Do you want to take the girl to the dance or do you want your mother to take her mother? For heaven's sake, skip the relatives and ask the girl. I hope the advice reached you in time and that it's straight in your head.

Too Loose-Lipped

Dear Ann Landers: I have always thought it paid to be honest but I'm not so sure any more. Please give me your opinion, also some advice.

I'm 24, considered good-looking and a neat dresser. I played college football and was a campus wheel. I've had several romances, some fleeting, others serious. I fell harder for me than I fell for them.

Two months ago (when I got home from the Army bit) I met a high-class gal who measured up to all my requirements. We began to see a lot of each other. I was sure this was "it."

In the course of our conversations I told her about some of the gals I had known. She seemed quite interested but doubted that I had made such progress with so many lovelies. (She knew most of them.) So, I showed her several letters which left no room for doubt. Of course I swore her to secrecy.

Now I can't get a date with her and she gives me the freeze on the phone. I'm sure she is mad because I was able to back up my claims. I was only being truthful and now I've lost the girl because of it. Is this fair?—YULE.

Dear Yule: You are a leading candidate for the Heel of the Year Award (Male Skunk Division.) This girl is freezing you out because she doesn't wish to be added to your list — and who can blame her? What you call "honesty" was nothing more than caddish bragging. You got what you deserved.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed, envelope.

To Your Good Health

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Some People Have Profusion of Tears

"Dear Dr. Molner: What causes tears? Every time I laugh I cry and have done so since I was a small child. I've had my eyes tested and they are good. — Mrs. P.G."

Dr. Molner

"I noticed a few months ago that one eye would tear at times. Since last summer it has been more noticeable. —Mrs. G. O."

Tears are secreted (given off as a secretion, as the dictionary says) by glands in the eyelids.

Exactly how much is hard to tell because the amount varies so much. The main function, however, is to wash out irritating materials. (We all know how our eyes water from dust, soap, onions, pungent fumes, even just plain cold air.)

But there's also an emotional factor, or nervous factor. This isn't unusual: there's a nervous factor in sneezing, coughing, even vomiting. Emotion can bring tears! Usually it is grief or unhappiness or pain; sometimes it is happiness. Ever hear of "tears of joy?" Sure.

MAN IS THE only creature that cries from emotion—the added exception being that small babies don't. Up to four or five months they can cry but not shed tears.

Some people have a ready and profuse secretion of tears. Some don't. Women especially are more likely, physiologically, to shed tears. Some, as a result of the simplest acts, begin to shed tears —not cry, but shed tears. Or from the simplest conversation. Maybe the research people will find out why, someday, but there are more important things to be discovered first.

True, this involuntary shedding of tears over a trifle can be awkward and embarrassing at times, so I hope someday we'll know exactly why and be able to control it. Anyway, that is what would seem to fit the first letter in today's column. With some people, the slightest emotional trigger can start the tears.

For the second letter, we run into quite another matter.

SINCE TEARS are a natural product of these tear glands in the eyes, where do the tears go—unless they run down our faces? Usually they flow away through little ducts in the corners of the eyes — the lacrimal ducts — and drain into the nose.

If one of these ducts becomes clogged at times from mucus, inflammation or scar tissue, where else can the "tears" go except out of the corner of the eye as though you were "crying"? This is a very common cause of tears from one eye only.

Can anything be done if this is persistent and troublesome? Yes, sometimes. In some instances the constricted tear duct can be dilated. In other cases a very tiny vinyl tube can be inserted, so the duct will remain open.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please send me your Calorie Chart. I am enclosing 5 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Is there any medical aid for the coffee habit?—X."

I don't know of any "medical" aid for the coffee habit, although the patent medicine people keep offering products which they claim will help. Maybe they do; I don't know. My own best advice is (if it bothers you) to use the decaffeinized "coffees" which are tasty enough. The caffein is the only thing in coffee that I know of that is significant.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has a duodenal ulcer. Now he weighs 220 pounds, but must have creamed vegetables and soups. Do you have a diet for him?—Mrs. L. V.

You can reduce calories by avoiding cream, using less butter, and using skimmed milk instead of whole milk. With these modifications you can still follow the ulcer diet. And above all your husband can cut carlories by taking smaller portions of everything. Your doctor, I feel sure, will agree.

Bed wetting can be conquered! To learn how, write to me in care of this newspaper requesting a copy of my booklet, "Enuresis—Ten Ways To Stop Bed Wetting," and enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

'58 One of Best Years for Ohio Farmers, Federal Report Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio farmers enjoyed one of the largest incomes in their history last year, Agriculture Department experts said today.

Department figures show that realized net income per Ohio farm in 1958 was $2,448. Net income is the amount of cash left after production expenses are subtracted from gross income.

Only in one previous year — the Korean War year of 1951—did net income per Ohio farm go higher, and then it was $2,476.

On the other side, Ohio's average farm income is actually under the national average of $2,750. States went as high as Arizona's $12,815 and as low as West Virginia's $1,019.

But the average net income figure for Ohio farmers does not tell the full story. There was a large increase during 1958 in Ohio crop and livestock inventories.

This was especially true of corn. The value of corn stocks on Ohio farms rose 18 million dollars by the end of last year.

"If the inventories are taken into consideration, the total net income per Ohio farm was up 38 per cent over 1957," the department spokesman said.

"Leaving out the inventories, the average net income for Ohio farmers was up 11 per cent over 1957."

As to why the Ohio farmers did so much better, a department booklet says:

"Substantial increases in cash receipts from hogs, cattle and wheat more than offset a continued rise in production expenses."

Altogether, Ohio farmers grossed $1,073,328,000 from farm marketings last year, but $33,922,000 of that was in the form of various government payments.

Those government payments in Ohio broke down this way: Conservation — $6,254,000; sugar — $635,000; wool—$590,000; soil bank —$26,443.

Looking ahead, the department says that in general "farm income may dip off in 1959."

Y-Men Advance Work on Project

Plans for carrying out the McKinley Park service project were advanced when the Y-Men's Club met Thursday night at the YMCA.

Work was scheduled to start sometime in April on renovating the lake and providing fishing facilities for youngsters. A water and filtration system also will be installed.

Ladies Night was set for Thursday, March 12. The 6:30 dinner meeting will be held at the YMCA with Prof. Edward A. Wright, humorist of Denison University, as the speaker.

During the business session a $50 donation was made to the Boy Scouts for billboard posters.

Mountain of Bills Poses Months-Long Chore for Legislature

1,589 Total New Record In Assembly

House, Senate Clerks Are Snowed Under By Last-Minute Filing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's lawmakers were resting up today from the most frantic week so far in the Legislature—a week which saw both a record budget and a record number of bills introduced.

Next week legislative committees begin the months-long chore of hacking away at the mountain of 1,589 bills which piled up before the introduction deadline late Thursday.

Scores of Proposals Submitted

Scores of bills suggested by state department heads funneled through the office of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle in the final hours and were assigned to Democratic legislators to sponsor.

Exactly what shape the DiSalle administration's legislative program will take, however, is still something of a mystery. He told newsmen shortly before the introduction deadline that he will be able to define his program only after he and his Cabinet have taken a look at the 1,123 House bills and 466 Senate bills now in the works.

Clerks Snowed Under

A blizzard of 348 bills almost snowed under the clerks of the two houses Thursday. The 1,589 total is 205 above the 1957 record.

As usual, it is likely that no more than 20 per cent of them ever will get into the lawbooks.

A host of tax measures came flooding into the legislative mill in the wake of DiSalle's request for a $2,076,000,000 budget for the next two years and new taxes amounting to 337½ million dollars.

DiSalle disclaimed responsibility for some of them, but conceded some of those not on the administration's list cleared through his office. Asked if these are standby tax proposals to fill in for others which might fall by the wayside, DiSalle replied: "We have no standbys."

Tax Bills Filed

All the tax measures DiSalle asked were introduced, in some cases several on one proposed tax.

These included tax increases on cigarettes, diesel fuel and gasoline, low-power beer, corporations and race track pari-mutuel wagering.

Among those he disclaimed were measures to increased the state fee for auto licenses and driver licenses. He also said he had turned down proposed state taxes on incomes and real estate.

Bills introduced Thursday would convert the Utilities Commission into a state department with a Cabinet-level director and split the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction into two departments.

DiSalle indicated he backs the Utilities Department proposal, but was noncommittal on the departmental split.

She came to Marion Thursday to participate in the formal opening and dedication of the Marion Plaza Shopping Center, just east of the city. She will visit the shopping center again today.

All-Electric Kitchen Carnival Will Be Staged Here in April

Plans for an all-electric kitchen carnival to be held in Marion April 3-11 were disclosed in an informal dinner meeting at Hotel Harding Thursday night.

A sales and advertising promotion, the carnival will be co-sponsored by the Saturday Evening Post and Ohio Edison Co. in cooperation with The Marion Star, WMRN, and appliance dealers, distributors and manufacturers.

Sixty-three attended last night's dinner, which was arranged by the Ohio Edison Co.

Guests Introduced

Harold J. Grigsby, Marion division manager of the Ohio Edison Co., greeted the guests. He also introduced Hugh E. Webster, executive secretary of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, and Mayor Wendell L. Strong.

Ray E. Semmler, dealer coordinator for the Marion division of the Ohio Edison Co., served as toastmaster.

Robert Butts of Akron, general supervisor of dealer coordination for the Ohio Edison Co., explained the kitchen carnival program from the electric company standpoint.

He pointed out that appliance manufacturers have contributed heavily to the project and will continue to give it strong financial backing.

Why Marion Was Picked

Marion was selected for this nationwide promotion, Mr. Butts said, because it has a healthy industrial climate and a large and prosperous surrounding rural area.

Robert Owings, of Philadelphia, merchandising manager of the appliance division, Saturday Evening Post, said Marion was chosen for this national "showcase" promotion because it is a typical American community.

He also pointed out the April program would bring executives of utility firms and appliance manufacturing companies into Marion from many points in the country.

George Lodge of Philadelphia, Saturday Evening Post coordinator for the project, described details of the promotion from the Post standpoint. He said the kick-off dinner would be Thursday night, April 2, at the UAW-CIO Hall.

Mr. Semmler, who will serve as the utility firm's representative, explained the plan from the local angle as it will be formulated by committees of dealers, distributors and others.

Harry Richards, dealer coordinator of the Detroit Edison Co. of Port Huron, Mich., described the experiences of his city in handling the promotion three years ago and said it was an outstanding success.

Pioneer

gold-plated cone's speed at 3,960 miles an hour.

At that time the Pioneer had been under radio observation for about 80 hours, longer than any other such space traveler.

Earlier a "really good signal" was reported by the General Electric Co. tracking station at Schenectady, N.Y., from nearly 400,000 miles. That was at 5:02 a.m.

Roy Anderson, head of the operation, estimated the distance, and said that "never before has any radio signal of this type been picked up from so far out in space."

He said the signal, "essentially unchanged from yesterday, a really good signal," was first picked up at 5:02 a.m.

The signals from America's sun-bound satellite were picked up earlier at Jodrell Bank, England.

Prof. Bernard Lovell, director of the telescope station at Jodrell Bank in England, said the U.S. sun satellite was 380,000 miles from the earth when its signal was picked up as it rose above the British horizon at 12:36 a.m. EST.

Lovell said Pioneer was traveling at about 4,200 miles an hour at the time.

The renewed pickup of radio signals at that distance surpassed the tracking mark claimed by the Soviets for their Mechta sun satellite launched last Jan. 2.

The Soviets said they tracked Mechta 370,000 miles in a 62-hour period.

Best estimates of National Aeronautics and Space Administration technicians here credited Pioneer with having jabbed 403,000 miles through the space wilderness by 7:30 a.m. EST today, about 80 hours after its launching from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Batteries which have powered Pioneer's radio voice were expected to die today as the little satellite speeds toward a solar orbit that may never end.

Midwestern Storm May Slow 37 Pioneers Bound for Alaska

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP)—The Alaska-bound 59ers from Detroit had it rough Thursday—the first day of their 4,300-mile journey—but a severe midwestern snowstorm could slow them down even more today.

The pioneers, who left Detroit Thursday and made a mere 130 miles to a state park here because of bad breaks, are scheduled to reach Wisconsin by nightfall. Parts of Wisconsin and Illinois are blanked by more than eight inches of snow.

In spite of the obstacles, the Michiganders aren't discouraged in their hopes of reaching the virgin Kenai Peninsula—where they plan to homestead 160 acres apiece—in about three weeks.

The group includes 13 men, 10 women and 14 children. There are 10 married couples and three single men. Yvonne Stevens, 22, quit her job as a business machine operator to join the caravan, but got stranded in Detroit by trailer hitch trouble. She hopes to catch up today.

The motorized caravan had delays but hurdled them. The last vehicle of the motorcade had hardly left the Motor City when the lead car pulled off for gasoline near Monroe, Mich. The others trailed around a corner after their leader, but kept going for two miles—on the wrong road.

Another delay came near the Ohio-Indiana border when one of the 12 vehicles blew a tire during a snowstorm. But true to pioneer tradition, the whole caravan pulled over to help.

They had hoped to make their first overnight stop near Chicago. The delays, however, caused them to spend the night at Pokagon State Park, near here.

Larson Goes to OSU

said. "However, when an opportunity for such an advancement came, I certainly had to take advantage of it."

—:—

"I WOULD LIKE to extend my personal thanks to everyone in this community who has helped so much in making my stay here so wonderful and successful," Larson said.

"I certainly want to thank Dr. Brown and the entire school administration for their very fine cooperation. Because of them we were able to accomplish what we did."

Larson's resignation will become effective April 1 and he will begin his new duties at OSU with the start of spring football practice one month from today.

Robert S. Brown, city school superintendent, said the search for Larson's successor here would get under way at once. Mr. Brown will start screening applications immediately and hopes to have a replacement appointed prior to dismissal of school here in June.

—:—

MR. BROWN'S statement follows:

"Coach Larson has formally requested a release effective April 1 from his coaching assignment at Harding High School.

"He undertakes his new responsibilities at Ohio State University with the best wishes of the Marion City Board of Education as well as the entire community." His vast influence as a man, a parent, a coach and as a leader of boys will be noted and the loss will be felt in the years ahead.

"I feel very proud that the Ohio State Board of Trustees and Coach Woody Hayes used our school system as a source to fill a vacancy in the football picture at that great university."

Hayes, in welcoming Larson to his staff, also included a note of praise for the help offered by Mr. Brown and his staff.

"He was very cooperative," Hayes said. "We worked with him very closely in order not to leave the local school system high and dry."

LARSON WILL take a 10-year high school coaching record into the Ohio State position. His record shows 50 victories, 29 defeats and 8 ties.

He was appointed to the Harding post in 1955 from Akron South. During his first season, his squad, hampered by lack of experience, lost six while winning only three. The 1956 Harding squad, however, rolled to six wins while losing only two and playing one tie. In 1957, the Presidents recorded a 7-2 mark, losing only to Fremont and Lorain.

Last season, Larson completed his climb to the top of Ohio high school circles with the first unbeaten, untied football team in the history of Harding High School.

The perfect mark gave the Presidents' their first Buckeye Conference grid crown and earned Larson "coach of the year" honors. The Presidents were named state champions in one poll and second in the other.

Since coming here, Larson has turned out three first-team All-Ohio selections. They were Harbin from the 1957 team and Bob Middleton and Rocky Evans from last season's unbeaten squad. Middleton was named Ohio's "Lineman of the Year."

Hayes and Larson were the guests of the Harding High School Booster Club at a small informal luncheon today at the Marion Country Club.

tracks and as far west as Chestnut St.

R. I. Butterworth, superintendent of the local branch of the Ohio Edison Co., said power was out on the entire circuit serving the area from about 5:19 to 5:58 a.m. The outage lasted two hours in isolated instances.

Conductors being blown from power poles in the northeast and west ends of town resulted in outages involving street lights only.

All told, .30 of an inch of rain had come down by 7:30 a.m. today.

Snow, driven headlong by the wind, lashed the county intermittently this morning and the weatherman predicted a continuation of the overcast, windy, snow-flecked weather picture at least through tonight.

The mercury had dropped a degree from the overnight low of 34 to 33 at noon, and officials termed it "highly unlikely" the day's forecast high of 40 would be reached.

A low of 22 is on tap tonight, with Saturday's peak reading expected to be 38.

High Wind Rips Off Turn Signs

Strong March winds are playing havoc with turn lane signs mounted at downtown intersections, according to reports to city police.

At 7:30 a.m., a man who identified himself as William H. Stewart told police that one of the signs fell and struck him on the arm as he was crossing the street at Main and Center streets.

Later a city patrolman, Robert Simmons, was nearly struck by another sign dislodged from its moorings at the same intersection.

The signs are attached to cables that support the traffic light in the center of the street and strong winds whip them around until the supporting attachment breaks.

Mayor Wendell L. Strong said some weeks ago that he planned to relocate the turn lane signs and to mount them on double cables running parallel to the crosswalks.

French Hunt For Killers of U.S. Newsman

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — French troops fanned out in western Algeria today in an intense search for nationalist rebels who ambushed and killed an American and a German, and wounded another American.

The dead men were Homer Flint Kellems, 65, of Siloam Springs, Ark., and Aircle Raimund Allen, 19, of Bonn, Germany, an interpreter. Kellems was a brother of Vivien Kellems, tax-fighting Connecticut woman industrialist and unsuccessful aspirant to the U.S. Senate.

The wounded man, William Hobbs, 27, of Siloam Springs, was shot in the chest and abdomen but was reported in satisfactory condition in the hospital at Tlencem, 70 miles southwest of Oran, near the Moroccan border.

A French spokesman said Kellems was the first American killed in the four-year-old Algerian rebellion against French rule.

Traveling in a rented car on a photographic tour, the three men had entered the rebel-infested area of Algeria from Morocco. They were ambushed at dusk Wednesday on a lonely road in a mountainous region known as Col du Juif (Jew's Pass), 35 miles west of the frontier.

Hobbs told French authorities the rebels swept down on the road as the car was passing and opened fire. The first burst wounded Hobbs.

Kellems, who was driving, stopped as a second burst ripped into the car. This fusillade hit the German, who apparently was killed instantly.

Kellems also was hit but managed to get out of the car. He cried "Americans" but was cut down by a third round of fire.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

A LaRue man's car was considerably damaged when it careened into a ditch and guardrail just west of LaRue Thursday at 1 p.m. on Marion County Rd. 12.

Patrolmen said the driver of the westbound auto, Albert Amstutz, 70, told them his vehicle was forced off the road by an unidentified eastbound auto in a one-lane bridge.

Two Mishaps in City

Two minor traffic accidents were investigated Thursday by Marion police.

One occurred in the 500 block of Mt. Vernon Ave. at 3:58 p. m., Police said it involved a city police cruiser driven by Patrolman Francis E. O'Hara, 35, of 800 Congress St. and a car driven by Mrs. Maude C. Robinson, 65, of 905 Vernon Heights Blvd.

Patrolman O'Hara reported that he was attempting to stop Mrs. Robinson to issue her a traffic violation ticket and had used his siren to do so. When she did not stop he pulled in front of her car to force it to the curb and the two cars made contact, he said. No visible damage occurred to either car.

He issued a citation to Mrs. Robinson on a charge of failure to heed a traffic light.

The other accident caused less than $100 in damage police estimated.

Automobiles Collide

One minor accident, investigated by city police, was reported to sheriff's deputies Thursday afternoon.

It occurred about 4:18 p.m. when eastbound cars driven by Edwin Ira Plumley of 840 Cheney Ave. and Robert E. Cogan of Columbus collided at the intersection of Silver St. and Kenton Ave. Deputies said Plumley was starting to make a left turn and Cogan was passing at the time.

Truck Rig Is Damaged In Johnsville Accident

Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the trailer portion of a trailer-tractor combination which flipped over at the intersection of Routes 42 and 314 in Johnsville Thursday at 5:30 p.m.

Investigating patrolmen said the driver, Ralph Seaboll, 45, of Sunbright, Tenn., was admitted to Morrow County Hospital with back injuries.

According to the report, the truck went out of control when the brakes failed. It turned over in a ditch, striking three state highway signs.

Burglar Takes $30

A burglary at a Green Camp service station was reported at 8 a.m. today by Robert Grove of 244 S. Main St., who is employed at the station.

He told deputies a cash drawer containing at least $30 was taken sometime during the night or early this morning by thieves who gained entrance by breaking a door window and reaching inside to unlock the door.

Death Toll Reaches 5 In Hazleton, Pa., Blaze

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — The fire which destroyed the Hotel Gary claimed another life Thursday night, bringing the death toll to five.

Howard Deitch, 53, whose wife lost her life in the blazing building early Thursday, died at a hospital of injuries. The couple had lived at the hotel.

Mrs. Mary McAlarney, another hotel resident was still unaccounted for. A man and a woman, were considered in serious condition. Thirteen others were injured less seriously, with seven still hospitalized.

Hunt Missing Boy, 3

LONGVIEW, Wash. (AP) — An Air Force helicopter is being readied to join a large scale search for a 3-year-old boy who has been missing since noon Thursday.

Jimmy Van Hook was believed to have wandered away from his home, but a check was made of houses and automobiles in the area.

of "knocking out hundreds or thousands of targets in a matter of minutes."

He also discounted chance of any limited war breaking out over Berlin, indicating that if a shooting war actually started it probably would become a major one.

"It would be very difficult to keep it a limited war," he said.

McElroy, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, all of whom attended the National Security Council meeting, return today for the meeting with congressional leaders. Also invited were Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), and the Republican leaders of Senate and House, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

Water Rate Hike Asked

of preparing its case before the PUCO.

Thomas Fetter (D-at large) last night said he thought council should attempt to block the new proposal and Harold Smith (D-at large) expressed the opinion council "won't even consider" approving the rate increases.

Emphasizing that the present rates have been in effect since Nov. 29, 1949, Mr. Porter pointed out in a prepared statement that the company has spent $2,000,000 on improvements in the 10-year period.

Among other things, it has added over 140,000 feet of water mains at a cost of $484,000, completed electrificiation of the main pumping station and installation of diesel driven standby pumps at an estimated cost of $187,500 and constructed a 6,000,000-gallon-a-day filter plant costing approximately $725,000, he said.

Only Source of Income

Rates charged its customers are the company's only source of income and are required to raise funds for capital additions already made, to expand with the growth of water consumption and to meet the rising cost of wages, materials and supplies, he said.

"The company has therefore taken this step, which perhaps has been too long delayed, to place its 1949 rate income in line with its 1958 costs and expenses," he said.

Under existing rates, the company receives a return on its total investment of 1.59 per cent, Mr. Porter said. The proposed increase would provide a return of 3.85 per cent, he said.

"We feel we have asked a rate increase that is justified and will produce sufficient income to attract the necessary capital to the company so that it may provide the service needed for the growth of the city," Mr. Heiney said.

In his prepared statement, Mr. Porter said that the officials of the company "are very conscious of their responsibility to keep pace with the development and growth of Marion."

He called attention to the recently completed dam on the Little Scioto River which will augment ground water supply. Water from this source will be available during periods of heavy run-off of rainwater and use of it will increase the recharge rate of company wells, he said.

Says Cost Up 43 Per Cent

Company operating expenses, depreciation and taxes paid for for the 12-month period ending Aug. 31, 1958, were $456,499 or 43 per cent more than for the year ending Dec. 31, 1950, he said.

"Although Marion, its residences, industries and water usage have very substantially expanded and grown during the last 10 years and . . . the company's business increased 38 per cent, its utility operating income . . . has increased less than 25 per cent," Mr. Porter said.

He added that in this era of inflation and rising prices, "probably the only surprising thing that could be said about the prospective and necessary increase is the fact that the company has been able to so long defer it."

Asked the additional gross revenue the proposed rate increase would provide for the company, Mr. Heiney said it would amount to about $360,000 a year of which $140,000 would go for corporate federal income tax and $11,000 would be paid to the state in additional excise taxes.

He said that use of the river water as a source of supply during the wet seasons will produce an annual saving of some $30,000 a year for the company in water softening and treating chemical costs.

Mr. Lister asked when the city will again have the option of purchasing the water company. Mr. Porter replied that the city, according to the franchise agreement, has the option of purchasing the company again on July 1, 1961.

City Paying for Expansion

Emmett Osterholt (R-6th) said that it appeared to him that the company expansion was to serve areas now lying outside the city limits but residents in the city would be paying for it.

Mr. Heiney replied that the company is in the business to sell water and that it could not establish a discriminatory rate for those of its customers residing outside the city limits.

He said that perhaps the PUCO, if it wishes, could order the company to establish higher rates for the suburban customers but that this is a legal question to be answered by an attorney.

Mr. Porter told the group last night that the company had cost of service and valuation of plant and equipment surveys made last year to substantiate the rate increase.

Asked by Mr. Lister if the valuation was based on cost of acquiring or the replacement costs, Mr. Heiney said the company valuation is on a replacement-depreciation basis. He said that parts of the distribution system and other equipment that are replaced are removed from the plant valuation inventory.

The last rate ordinance adopted by council was on Jan. 28, 1952 and, although it terminated Dec. 31, 1952, it was designed to remain in force until either the company or the city requested rate adjustments. The 1952 ordinance was for the rates established by the PUCO in 1949.

All members of council, excepting Lowell Doyle (R-3rd) and Fred Baldauf, president, attended last night's meeting. In addition to Mr. Porter and Mr. Heiney, the water company was represented by Theodore P. Frericks of the Mickley, Frericks and Howard law firm.

Commenting on the proposal today, Mayor Wendell L. Strong said: "I'm not for a water rate increase. When they go out and tear up our streets and can't fix them, it's time we did something about it." The mayor was referring to excavations made in city streets by the water company for the purpose of repairing or replacing water lines.

Dimes Campaign Total Here Is Nearly $21,000

With funds still being collected and credited to the 1959 Marion County March of Dimes campaign, chairman Joseph Casey today issued a near-final report showing total collections of nearly $21,000. Collections were delayed more than usual this year because of flood conditions which postponed Mothers' March collections in some areas and delayed returns in the spcial gifts devision.

The most recent figures, as tabulated by Stuart E. Jones, collection chairman of the drive, list a total collection of $20,739 compared with $22,818 taken in during last year's drive.

Further comparison with last year's collections within the many activities of the campaign which was climaxed with the traditional Mothers' March on Jan. 29 were included in Mr. Casey's report. Sources of funds were as follows:

Mother's March: Traditionally the big money raiser in the Dimes campaign, the 1959 march brought in $8,354, compared with $10,020 in 1958.

Dime containers: The familiar containers found on counters in stores, financial institutions, taverns and other places of business produced $640 this year and $1,666 last year.

Schools: Coin cards, special events and activities in public and parochial schools turned in $1,398, a slight drop from last year's total of $1,481. That the decrease was less in this category than many others is attributed to the fact that the National Foundation aims its expanded program at diseases closely associated with youth — polio, juvenile arthritis, birth defects and congenital malformations, diseases of the central nervous system.

Mailers: In solicitations through the mail, the local chapter noted an increase over last year's figure. Mailers returned $1,539 this year compared to $1,446 in 1958.

Bowling and sports: This category, consisting of sports events and peanut sales conducted at the events, showed a decrease from $1,287 in 1958 to $96 in 1959. This figure, however, would be larger than last year's if the money realized on the wrestling show, included below in "special events" were added to the total.

Special gifts: This category includes special gifts from industry, organizations and individuals separately from the other phases of the campaign. This year, $3,462 was realized compared with $3,505 last year. One noteworthy contribution among special gifts came from Eaton Manufacturing Co. employes who donated $1,050 through a special fund whereby the company matches the amount employes decide to contribute.

Special events: This category includes all the special activities undertaken whereby donors receive something tangible for their contribution. Totals in this section show an increase over last year with $5,247 collected in the recent drive as compared with $3,409 last year. The main source of money came as a result of the polio benefit wrestling match held at the Coliseum. After expenses and taxes were paid on the $2,070 gate, the local chapter was $1,500 richer. Other events and the amounts collected include: American Legion Road Block, $1,400; Real Estate Dance, $406; Eagles' Dance, $300; Hole-in-One Golf, $206; Jaycee White Elephant Auction, $133; Ritz Bar & Grill Board, $101; Street Corner Barrels, $241; and the remainder from peanut sales by institutions and organizations.

"We are extremely well pleased with the support given us by individuals and organizations in the city and county," Mr. Casey said. "Although we didn't top last year's totals, there were extenuating circumstances. You can look for more special events and activities next year in sort of an 'expanded program' of our own to help the National Foundation meet its ambitious and worthwhile goals in the new disease fields.

"If we missed you for some unknown reason and you were ready to give to the March of Dimes, but weren't asked, please consider this an open invitation to contribute to this worthy cause. Mail your contributions to Polio, c-o Joe Casey, Marion, Ohio, or call me anytime at 2-5860 and I'll pick up your contribution personally," he said.

Police Reports

David O. Hughes of near Marion reported at 2:50 p.m. Thursday that all four hub caps were stolen from his car while it was parked at the Coliseum Tuesday night. He valued them at $20.

H. E. Phillians of 196 S. High St. reported that two hub caps were taken from his car parked at the Coliseum Friday night. He valued them at $15.

Given Suspended Fine

Dewey Clark, 43, of Camp Creek, W. Va., was given a suspended $25 and costs fine in Municipal Court Thursday on a charge of train riding. He was arrested Wednesday night by Erie Railroad Police.

Reid To Head Toastmasters

Robert Reid was elected president of the Marion Toastmaster's Club, to succeed John Dietrich, at a meeting of the organization Wednesday night in the cafeteria of the Whirlpool Corp. plant.

Named to serve with Mr. Reid were Ken McKee, educational vice president; Eldon Phillips, administrative vice president; Chris Paulides, secretary; Ed Mahle, treasurer; and George Lichvarik, sergeant-at-arms.

Mr. Dietrich served as toastmaster for the program. Jimmie J. France was in charge of topics and Richard Samsel evaluated the talks. Mr. Reid won the award for the best talk, a discourse on "The Threat of Socialism." Mr. Lichvarik was named best evaluator.

Plans were made for a speech contest to be held in Mansfield March 11.

Guests included Fred Becker, Peter Petan, Ed Andrea and Carl Mitchell, all of Mansfield; Mike Kissell of Galion; and Neil Studer and Ham Howe, both of Shelby.

Harper To Head State Highway's Garage in Marion

The Marion County Democratic central and executive committees announced today that Otto Harper, 64, of 376 W. Columbia St. has been appointed superintendent of the state highway garage on W. Fairground St.

Appointed by the highway department's Division 6 in Delaware, he succeeds Delmar Mayer of 211 Jefferson St. who was named to the post last year after the death of Charles Barrett.

Mr. Harper was superintendent of the city sanitation department in 1956 and 1957 under the Democratic administration. Prior to that he was a guard at the Marion Correctional Institution for about four years.

A former deputy sheriff, he also worked as a guard at the Green Springs Honor Camp from last April until Jan. 15.

Mr. Harper is a native of Lawrence County and has resided in Marion for 43 years. He is married to the former Miss Pearl Hottle of Beckley, W. Va., and they have four children.

Traffic Cases

Two speeding cases were disposed of in Marion Municipal Court Thursday. They were:

Frank Mazzone, 46, of 46 Windsor Apts., $15 and costs (suspended) and Thomas H. Shields, 22, of 801 Windsor St., $15 and costs (suspended).

Public Relations Conference Held Here by Telephone Co.

Talks by company officials and a newspaper editor highlighted the second annual public relations conference of the General Telephone Co. of Ohio Wednesday and Thursday at Hotel Harding.

Principal speaker Thursday afternoon was John A. Maxwell Jr., editor of The Marion Star. He outlined newspaper organization and discussed the public's approach to the newspaper. He was introduced by Richard Zachman, company public information supervisor.

Also speaking Thursday were Robert C. Fletcher, personnel manager, who discussed "Employe Participation in Improving Public Relations," and Ray Hatfield, division manager of the General Telephone Directory Co. in Lexington, Ky., who outlined "Directory Company Relations Today."

The other company speaker was Richard N. Cole, administrative assistant to the president, who spoke Wednesday on "Getting Better Acquainted With Your Legislators."

The conference theme was "Tools To Build," and served as a clinic and workshop on various aspects of public relations as it relates to the telephone company.

Opening remarks were made Wednesday morning by Leon E. Brookhart, public relations director for the telephone company. Clare E. Williams, company president, offered brief remarks Thursday morning and closing remarks were made by F. W. Hamper, operating vice president of the company.

Noon luncheon was served at the hotel for all guests Wednesday and Thursday and supper was served in the ballroom Wednesday night.

Visiting guests among the 60 persons who attended the sessions were Marston V. Shepherd, public relations director of General Telephone Co. of Kentucky, and Earl S. Prather Jr., public relations director for the company in Illinois.

Universal Marion Has Highest Yield in Group, Study Reveals

A recent Financial World study of 17 makers of road building machinery shows that the stock of Universal Marion Corp. has the highest dividend yield in this group based on current market prices.

Marion Power Shovel Co., a division of Universal Marion Corp., manufactures a complete line of crawler and rubber-mounted excavators, cranes, draglines and related equipment, ranging from ¾ cu. yd. to 100 cu. yd. dipper capacities. The firm's products are widely used on road building projects and in industries supplying the raw materials for highways — crushed stone, cement, sand and gravel, etc.

The magazine disclosed that at a price of $14 per share (the price at the time of the study), the stock of Universal Marion, traded on the American Stock Exchange, was yielding 5.8 per cent on an indicated annual rate of 80 cents per share.

However, if the yield had been figured on the actual total dividends paid in 1958, which amounted to $1.20 per share, the yield on the $14 market price would have been 8.5 per cent. Currently the stock is quoted around $16.50 which at a $1.20 rate, as indicated by a dividend of 30 cents for the first quarter of 1959, means a yield of more than 7 per cent.

The present federally-sponsored road building program, according to Financial World, should aid road machinery makers for some time to come.

Up to now, the publication points out, "an appreciable proportion of road construction has often been done by operators who get into the business only when they happened to land a contract, and conducted other activities the rest of the time. Where possible, they preferred to use some rented or second-hand equipment rather than tie up working capital they frequently did not have in machinery they could expect to use for only a limited time.

"But with a huge infusion of federal highway funds scheduled to continue for at least another 11 years (probably longer), more of them are making this a permanent full-time activity; thus they feel justified in expanding their equipment holdings.

"The prospect that they will be able to keep busy for years to come eases their financing problem. In addition, it pays them to use the latest, most powerful and largest-sized models, since these can provide cost saving which may easily make the difference between a low-bidder and an also-ran. Manufacturers of road building machinery have helped to expand their own market by developing improved products which save time and manual effort."

$50 Bond Forfeited

Disorderly conduct charges against two men were disposed of in Marioin Municipal Court Thursday.

A $50 bond of Robert C. Arnett, 18, of 585 Wood St. was ordered forfeited because of his failure to appear for trial on Feb. 26 as previously scheduled. He also was charged with intoxication and resisting arest and had posted a $100 bond. The other $50 was ordered returned to him.

Raymond D. Howell, 46, of 218 Senate St. was fined $25 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge.

Roundtable Held At Marion Depot For Scout Leaders

The monthly roundtable meeting of the Evergreen District of the Harding Area Boy Scout Council was held Thursday night at the Marion Engineer Depot in Neuman Hall.

The opening ceremony was conducted by Den 4 of Pack 39 at Mark St. School. Following the opening ceremony the group played a folk game.

Cub Scout leaders and Boy Scout leaders divided into groups for the evening's activity. Cub leaders were entertained by members of the Mark-St. den. The boys presented pantomimes of various animals which the leaders guessed.

A propject of making puppets and marionettes was explained by Richard McClead.

The Boy Scout leaders heard a discussion of tree identification and the forestry merit badge as presented by Ray Coleman of Troop 33. Camping facilities throughout Ohio also were pinpointed.

The two leadership groups came together for Mr. McClead and his family to tell the story of "Jack and the Beanstalk" with marionettes.

Training certificates were awarded to those who have completed instruction this year. Camping awards were presented to troops.

It was announced that the Cub Scout leaders basic training course will be held Saturday at Camp Owens with the first session opening at 10 a.m. Times for the second and third sessions respectively are 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Refreshments were served by Pack 12 of Glenwood School.

Fifty-five persons, representing 7 packs and 11 troops attendded the roundtable.

Thomas Will Speak

Rolland Thomas, district representative of the Braun Bros. Packing Co., will speak on "The Modern Art of Meat Packing" during the Monday luncheon meeting of the Marion Lions Club in Hotel Harding. James Neff is in charge of arrangements for the program.

A 15-year-old Marion boy is being held in detention at the Children's Home today on a theft charge, sheriff's deputies reported. They said the boy was caught stealing money at Green Camp School Thursday afternoon. School authorities told deputies they caught the youth with a marked $1 bill that was taken.

Insurance Firm's Safety Director Addresses 20-30

The program was presented by F. L. Davis, safety director of Mill Mutual Insurance Co. in Columbus, when the 20-30 Club met Thursday night at the YMCA with 27 members present.

Speaking on "Fire Prevention," Mr. Davis gave demonstrations showing the flammability of various materials. He pointed out that the three factors necessary to start a fire are fuel, oxygen and heat.

Citing national statistics, he declared that 33 people burn to death every 24 hours in the United States. A home fire occurs every 15 seconds. And 25 per cent of all fires in this country are caused by careless smoking and matches, Mr. Davis said.

He concluded his talk with a demonstration and explanation of different types of fire extinguishers and their degree of effectiveness. The speaker was introduced by Richard Moore, program chairman.

Reports on the Easter egg hunt and convention were given during the business meeting conducted by Max Haines, president.

It was announced that visitations to the other Ohio district clubs, originally scheduled for next week, have been postponed until the week of March 16. This report was given by Richard Freese, project chairman.

Plans were reported for a party to be held next Thursday night. Members of the winning team in the membership contest will be guests of the losing team.

Gene Walters was a guest.

Bill (Moose) Skowron, Yankee first baseman, hit .351 against the Chicago White Sox in 1958. He drove in 17 runs against the second place team.

West Virginia, In Dire Straits, Senators Told

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—Human misery and suffering among thousands of unemployed miners in West Virginia's coal fields. Crime on the increase. Family desertion and near-starvation.

That was the grim picture before a Senate subcommittee today as it concluded a series of three hearings on West Virginia's hard-hit economy.

An estimated 15 per cent of the state's 500,000 work force are jobless, more than double the national average.

Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-WVa) told the Senate group Thursday at Beckley that West Virginia has the highest unemployment rate in the union, with 45,000 persons having exhausted their unemployment benefits.

The nation's largest bituminous coal producing state, Randolph said, is faced with a "gray spectre of hunger and deprivation." He said it has been brought on by mechanization of the coal mines and declining coal production due to competing fuels.

Harding Ready for District Tourney Test Tonight

Prexies Duel Lima Quintet in Opener

The Harding basketball squad was declared fit and ready for tonight's district tournament battle against Lima Senior by Coach Don Knodel after a light drill Thursday afternoon.

Only one blot appeared on the scene and that was the loss of Jim Maginn, one of Knodel's three top replacements. Maginn suffered an ankle sprain in a mid-week drill and the ankle was so badly swollen Thursday that he did not participate.

—:—

"IT APPEARS to be a real bad sprain," Knodel said. As a result Maginn will not be in uniform for any district action.

"Things are looking up," the Harding coach reported. "I think we are ready. We just have to be now."

Knodel has worked his charges hard all week preparing for a tall and talented Lima squad which goes into the scrap with a 13-5 record. The Presidents carry a 12-9 mark into the contest.

Defensive work has been stressed in the Harding drills although the final session touched on all phases of the Prexies' cage game.

"The boys are really eager. They are looking forward to the game," Coach Knodel said. A giant pep rally by the student body was scheduled for 3 p.m. as the finishing touches in preparations for the clash.

KNODEL WILL start tonight's contest with his regular five players. That would find Bob Middleton and Mike Chamberlain at forwards, Chuck Campbell at center and George Kirk and Stan Larkin at guards. With Maginn on the hospital list, Ken Coffae and Paul Cressor will be the chief replacements.

Kirk Gooding, 6-6 scoring whiz for the Spartans, is the No. 1 target for the Harding defense. The big Lima ace, described by Knodel as a player who does everything well and has every shot in the book, has scored 351 points in the Spartans' 18 games for a 20 point average.

Coach Don Penhorwood has built an awesome attack around the lanky star which has accounted for a 65.5 scoring average thus far. The Lima defense has given up an average of 55 points a game.

TWO OF THE Spartans' defeats came at the hands of Middletown's powerful quintet. Lima suffered 70-62 and 80-69 defeats in the games with the Middies. Springfield administered defeats by 66-64 and 59-54 margins while the fifth loss was to Mansfield 61-57.

The Spartans moved into the district tournament with an impressive 61-55 victory over Delphos St. John last week in Lima Sectional play.

Harding and the Spartans will clash in tonight's opening contest at 7 p.m. Mansfield, Marion Sectional co-champion along with Harding, will lay a 10-10 record on the line against Lima Central Catholic (16-4) in tonight's finale.

Tonight's winners will return to action Saturday at 8 p.m. for the district championship and a trip to the Toledo Regional tournament.

READY FOR TITLE DEFENSE. The Marion YMCA wrestling team will defend its Marion Invitational Wrestling crown here Saturday against the strongest field ever entered in the three-year event. Fifty-seven boys from the Central Ohio YMCA region and Huntington, Ind., will compete. Matches will be held in 11 divisions with action scheduled to get under way at 1 p. m. The entire Marion team, 18 boys, will see action. Members of the Marion team include (front row, left to right) Buster Vandewater, Bill Thatcher, Joel Lenavitt, Dale Kibbey, Harry Spring, Bill Haynes and coach Dean Ludwig; second row: Bud Kelley, Doug Beaver, John Keller, Clyde Thomas, Jerry Gibson and Pete Wolfinger; third row: Harry Factor, manager, Marty Kaufman, Bob Kuhn, Bob Davenport, Fred Kibbey and Chris Kimball.

Heavy Rains Stop New Orleans Open

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — If at first you don't succeed, try, try again, and that's what golf's touring professionals will be doing today — trying to get the $20,000 New Orleans Open Tournament started.

Heavy morning rains drenched the city park course Thursday, cancelling play.

The downpour left puddles all over the 6,700-yard course and even if the 72-hole event gets under way today the pros will find the going gooey.

The postponement forced a revision of the schedule. After today's opening 18 holes, similar rounds were scheduled for Saturday and Sunday with the finals set for Monday.

Addresses Kiwanis Club

OSU's Godfrey Praises Local Football Interest

Ernie Godfrey, freshman football coach and assistant athletic director at Ohio State University, was guest speaker Thursday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Marion Kiwanis Club at Hotel Harding.

Highlight of Godfrey's appearance was the showing of a film on the highlights of Big Ten football action last fall and Iowa's victorious appearance in the Rose Bowl.

In a brief address prior to the film, Godfrey informed his audience that Marion figures prominently in the future planning at Ohio State. He compared Marion with Columbus in its tremendous football interest. "Columbus is rated No. 1," he said. "But you have done as well right here."

—:—

He called Harbin, an All-Ohio guard selection during his senior year, one of the Buckeyes' most promising underclassmen last season.

"You should be very proud of that boy," the Buckeye coach said of Lister. "He is one of the finest boys ever to step foot on the campus." Lister, who was a second team All-Ohio quarterback selection, was credited by Godfrey with tipping the scales in OSU's favor in the bidding for John Mummey, Painesville backfield ace being sought by many colleges. The Marion youth guided Mummey on a recent tour of the OSU campus and apparently made a fine impression.

Mummey along with Harding's Bob Middleton, Ohio's high school lineman of the year, and Bob Vogel of Massillon were called Ohio's three outstanding grid stars. OSU is hoping to land all three, Godfrey admitted.

HE TERMED THE position of the three high school athletes "very vulnerable." Every school in the state wants their athletic ability, he said. "But no school in the country can do a better job for an Ohio boy than his own state university," he insisted.

"I only wish I could impress upon people the greatness of that university," he added.

Godfrey went on to praise the work of Woody Hayes, head coach of the Buckeye grid machines. "Woody has never been blessed by an over-abundance of materials," he insisted. "But he gets more out of a little material than any coach in the Big Ten."

Godfrey was introduced by E. L. Mitchell, Kiwanis program chairman.

The Marion club paid tribute to the newly-organized Town and Country Kiwanis Club and an inter-club visit was paid by a group of the new club's members. Fred Winebrenner of Chicago, field service representative for Kiwanis International, was introduced and also paid tribute to the new organization.

Junior Kiwanians for the next six-week period also were introduced. Serving for that period from Harding High School will be Tim Rothe and Dave Ioerger while Dennis Shearer and John Trainer will represent Marion Catholic.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the retirement of Col. John M. Thayer at the Marion Engineer Depot was made. Col. Thayer will leave the service in the near future and establish a home in Columbus.

William Crosby, field director for the Prentiss Normal School at Prentiss, Miss., also addressed the club. He told the Kiwanians of an urgent need for funds at the school after a damaging fire recently in one of the school's dormitories.

Invocation was given by Harold F. Denzer.

O'Toole Seeks Varsity Berth At Cincinnati

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—If you think bright rookie pitcher Jim O'Toole might make the major leagues this season, you're a step behind Cincinnati Reds' officials. They thought the same thing after last season.

Coach Clyde King, hired specifically to spruce up the Reds' wobbly pitching staff, said Thursday of O'Toole:

"He's one of the finest young pitchers I've ever seen. He's deadly serious about his job, knows what it can mean to be a standout and I think he's determined that he'll make it with the Reds this season."

The 22-year-old southpaw notched 20 victories last season with Nashville, produced four shutouts, and in 280 innings struck out 189 batters and allowed only 132 bases on balls. His performance won him the title of Minor League Player of 1958.

The young southpaw gets the starting assignment Saturday when the Reds open their spring exhibition series against Chicago's White Sox. He'll work the first three innings followed by Ted Weiand, rookie righthander, and Tom Acker is slated to finish up.

Both Play Tonight

2 Marion County Squads in District

Marion County's two basketball powers — Ridgedale and Prospect — roll into the big time tonight as they compete in the Central District tournament finals on the boards of the fairgrounds Coliseum in Columbus.

Fred McCumber's Bulldogs will clash with Lynwood - Jackson (Jacksontown) at 7 p.m., with Mentor Bill Phillips's Rockets taking on Pickerington in the evening's nightcap.

At stake are berths in regional tourney play, the competition which pares the contenders for the state championship down to the "sweet 16." The sites are Troy and Athens.

THIS MARKS the first time in the history of Marion county basketball that two teams have represented this area at this stage of tournament play and there is every possibility that either Prospect or Ridgedale or both will wind up in the regionals.

But tonight's opponents for both quintets are formidable ones, as are all competitors at this point on the journey to the championship finals.

Prospect, with 19 victories and 3 defeats to its credit this season, will tangle with a Lynwood-Jackson-five that sports a 19-4 record. Ridgedale, 23 wins and a trio of downfalls on its slate, will battle Pickerington, whose cagers have rolled to 22 decisions while dropping only one.

McCumber said this morning that he and his team expect to meet a Jacksontown crew that "plays a fast break with rare perfection and presses all the way."

PROSPECT'S opponents tonight have two high-scoring guards in Gill and Turner, 5-11 and 5-10 respectively. But the big man is Holman, who stands in the pivot spot at 6-5. He'll have a 3-inch advantage on the Bulldogs' Mosher, 6-2, and a good 5 inches on Tom Rodgers, who, McCumber said, "will probably get the nod to guard him."

McCumber said Jacksontown has "had little trouble scoring between 60 and 70 points a game" and added that if the Bulldogs are to win they will, "without question," have to "break up their fast break."

Phillips observed that he had seen Pickerington play once, against Granville. "They won that one by 2 points but I discovered they had 5 boys who had no trouble scoring," he noted.

The Rocket coach suggested that Pickerington will start a quintet averaging "about the same height as we'll have," with two boys hitting the 6-2 mark and the rest averaging around 5-10 or 5-11.

"They'll all be able to score and we'll have to be at our best to turn them back," the Ridgedale mentor asserted.

Marion Catholic Planning New Track Facility

IRISH TRACK, FIELD HOPEFULS. These are the boys making up this season's Marion Catholic High School track and field squad. Coached by Max Ross, the Irish thinclads will open their season April 1 on the Pleasant cinders. Ross has had his charges running indoors for two weeks to condition them for outside activities when the weather breaks. A new oval is to be laid behind the school this spring, replete with cinder track, cement curbings and blacktopped runways. Members of the Irish squad (front row, left to right) are: Mike Stringer, Steve Myers, Dennis Dickerson, Bob Slauson, Duane Isom, Ted Anderson, Brian Kavanaugh, Art Tyde, Joe Cochran, Steve Gibb and Tom Rizzo. Second row: Bill Baker, Jim Brown, John Gunder, Jim Byrnes, Ken Barzacchini, Paul Hurney, Mike Schlairet, Ted Frericks, John Britz and Tom Powers. Third row: Steve Blackledge, Tom West, Dick Gibb, Mike Hamper, John Head, Mike Brown, Jim Rish, Jim Martin, Dick Elsasser and Bob Cramer; fourth row: Al Peacock, manager, Phil Kelly, Greg Nicolosi, Tim Peacock, Steve Gunder, Larry Roth, Fran Voll and Gary Geyer and Walter Ring, managers. Miami Beaten, Shares First With Falcons

By The Associated Press

Bowling Green was happy enough about defeating Marshall College on the basketball court last Saturday. But what the Falcons' followers felt after Marshall won its final game of the season Thursday night was sheer joy.

The reason:

Marshall's 90-79 victory over Miami of Ohio's Redskins enabled Bowling Green to tie Miami for the Mid - American Conference championship.

The Falcons meet the Redskins in a playoff Friday afternoon in the University of Dayton fieldhouse. The winner advances to the NCAA tournament at Lexington, Ky., as the Mid-American representative.

Both Bowling Green and Miami ended conference play with 9-3 records.

When the Falcons beat Marshall 94-81, it gave Bowling Green a chance to tie for conference laurels. But the Falcons had no say in the outcome. That was their last game.

It was up to Miami. The Redskins had to lose their two remaining games to give Bowling Green a tying chance.

And the Redskins unwillingly accommodated — dropping a 71-61 verdict to Kent State Saturday then bowling before the Thundering Herd Thursday night.

The Marshall victory gave Bowling Green its first co-championship. Miami shared conference honors with Western Michigan in 1952, and won the title outright in 1953, 1955, 1957 and 1958.

Strickland Takes Early Lead in Shortstop Battle

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — George Strickland, back after a year in retirement, undoubtedly would be the shortstop for the Cleveland Indians if the baseball season were opening tomorrow.

The 33-year-old veteran has made the best showing of any of the five players battling for the job.

Strickland played two games at shortstop and one at second base in the intrasquad series. In Thursday's series windup he was at his usual position of shortstop and gave a flawless performance. He also slashed two doubles in five times at bat.

He is not expected to be a heavy hitter, but Manager Joe Gordon believes he will hit .250, which would put him among the American League's top infielders in the hitting department. Strickland is one of the best glove men in the league and there are few infielders with stronger or more accurate arms.

Clears Way for Veeck

Judge Denies Comiskey's Pleas To Halt Chisox Sale

CHICAGO (AP) — For the first time since the founding of the American League in 1900, it appeared today that the Chicago White Sox no longer is strictly an enterprise of the Comiskey family.

Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in probate court Thursday denied two petitions through which Charles (Chuck) Comiskey had sought to block the sale of 54 per cent of the Chicago White Sox stock to Bill Veeck by Comiskey's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Rigney.

But first, Judge Dunne rebuked Chuck and Mrs. Rigney for waging their family feud in public and in the newspapers.

Judge Dunne granted a motion by Mrs. Rigney's attorneys to dismiss one Comiskey petition, which would have nullified the sale, and denied another which would have accomplished the same purpose by removing Mrs. Rigney as executrix of their mother's estate.

Veeck, former president of the old St. Louis Browns and the Cleveland Indians, has until March 31 to wind up his $2,700,000 deal for the 3,235 shares owned by Mrs. Rigney. If Veeck completes the deal it would leave Chuck a minority stockholder.

Teacher Takes Life

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miss Opal Smith, 52, a retired Mount Vernon, Ohio, school teacher, committed suicide here by firing a .32 caliber revolver bullet into her head, Coroner Dr. Robert A. Evans ruled. Her body was found Thursday at the home of her sister, whom she had been visiting. Sheriff's deputies said Miss Smith apparently was worried over possible ill health.

BOB BOOZER, Kansas State | BAILEY HOWELL, Mississippi State | JERRY WEST, West Virginia | OSCAR ROBERTSON, Cincinnati | JOHNNY COX, Kentucky

District Action Slated in Ohio Tourney Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school basketball teams will name a fourth of the 32 regional qualifiers tonight as the survivors of the starting field of 1013 squads race toward the state finals here March 20-21.

Middletown's seven-time Class AA champs, looming larger as the payoff nears, have a chance to get into the regional playoffs as they carry their 18 - 4 record against Princeton tonight at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati St. Xavier and Cincinnati Taft, the latter the tourney's Cinderella team with an 8-13 record, meet in the Queen City for the other Class AA regional spot up for decision tonight.

Six of the 16 Class A regionalists will be selected in Friday's firing.

They will come from the Ridgeville as Pickerington and Prospect vs Lynwood-Jacksontown clashes at Columbus; Racine vs Southwestern, and New Boston vs Lynchburg at Athens; Midvale vs Conotton Valley at Dover, and Maysville vs Old Washington at Marietta.

Cox, West Also Picked

Cincinnati Star Named For 2nd Straight Year

By TED MEIER
AP Basketball Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati—"A greater player this year than last."

Jerry West of West Virginia—"There's no one who can compare to him in all-around ability."

Bob Boozer of Kansas State—"Hardest to stop big man in college basketball."

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State — "Greatest player in the Southeastern Conference since Bob Pettit."

Johnny Cox of Kentucky—"Best when the going is tough."

Nation's Top Stars

These five whizzes of the hardwood were named to the 1959 collegiate basketball All-America by The Associated Press today on the basis of votes from 319 sportswriters and broadcasters throughout the country.

Robertson, the "Big O" who made the All-America last year as a sophomore, again is the top major college scorer, averaging better than 33 points a game.

"He is an all around player offensively and defensively," Cincinnati Coach George Smith says. "He is one of top rebounders in the nation. And with all of that he is a great team player."

West, a junior like Robertson, led West Virginia to its fifth straight Southern Conference title. "I know that without him," says West Virginia Coach Fred Schaus, "our team this year wouldn't have gone any place."

Boozer, a senior like Howell and Cox and at 6-8 the tallest man on the first team, led Kansas State to the Big Eight crown.

Best 'Big Man'

Tex Winter, K-State coach, declares "Boozer is the hardest to stop big man in college basketball. He has all shots and moves to get open."

Howell, whose season is over because Miss. State will not compete in the NCAA Tournament, shattered the three-year Southeastern Conference scoring mark of 2,002 that Bob Pettit set as an All-America at Louisiana State in 1954.

Babe McCarthy, Miss. State coach, hails Howell as a symbol for young Americans. "Words cannot describe the true genuineness of this great boy. Not only is he a great athlete, he's an All-America in every walk of life."

Cox was in the thick of things when Kentucky won the NCAA championship last season. This season Coach Adolph Rupp built an entirely new team around him.

Don Hennon, of Pitt; Johnny Green of Michigan State; Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame; Leo Byrd of Marshall and Lou Pucillo of North Carolina State were named as a second team. Hennon, a first team All-America last season, missed out this time because of Pitt's poor record. He and Pucillo, at 5-8½ and 5-9, respectively, are the smallest players on the squad.

Jim Hagan of Tennessee Tech; Bob Ferry of St. Louis; Ron Johnson of Minnesota; Joe Ruklick of Northwestern and York Larese of North Carolina were chosen as a third team.

By JOHN CROSBY

The Big Top Is Gone

CHARLESTON, W.Va. I've been spending the last couple of days with the circus — the new, streamlined, no-tent circus. Well, the smells haven't changed, anyhow. As a matter of fact, a lot of things have not changed — the camaraderie, the life at close quarters, the backstage card games, the bustle and movement and tinsel, the crowds, the clowns, the animals. It's a great life — the circus. It must be or why would so many people be so hopelessly committed to it?

JOHN CROSBY

Certainly not for the money. Those young ladies who dangle from the ropes in the big spectacular numbers and just walk around the ring in feathers and spangles in the parade numbers get 100 bucks a week.

Everything — their hotels and meals and clothes — has got to come out of that. Everything except transportation. Ringling Bros. gives them a mileage allowance and they can go by train or pogo stick for all Ringling Bros. cares.

A FAR CRY from the old days when the circus train carried them all—elephants and high-wire girls—from town to town; when they lived in circus wagons and ate circus-cooked meals.

The circus was the last of the feudal domains — sufficient unto itself, each man doing his job in return for which was the absolute security of bed and board and companionship.

Today, they're in hotels and motor cars — like the rest of us. A great step backward into the present.

Why do they do it? I think danger has its own lure. Ask a circus man what is the most dangerous act, not only in this circus but in any of them, and he will tell you it's the high-wire act of Al Alanza.

He walks up the wire on his toes, doing his act without guy wires or net (except in New York, where a net is required by law), and then skips rope.

A COMPACT, little Englishman who seems to be one solid muscle, he worked for years on a low wire. The difference between the low and the high — same wire, same everything — is fear, and that is a tremendous difference in itself.

"The day I moved the wire to 30 feet, I was terrified," he admitted. "It's a different psychology altogether when you're on the high wire and your muscles behave differently."

It's a wow of an act built of his fear and the fear of an audience.

Wauhilla La Hay, the Indian girl down here fronting for Kenyon and Eckhardt, will never miss it. Wherever she is, when Al Alanza is introduced, she dashes to the arena, muttering: "I can't miss Alanza."

But once he leaves the ground, she buries her head in her arms and refuses to look up during his hazardous maneuvering on that wire. It's a strange, strange attraction both for performer and audience, a communion of fear, lure that brings the crowds to the bull fights in Spain.

THE WORD psychology takes quite a kicking around in a circus.

I had a chat with Otto Griebling, the saf-faced clown, a vetern of 46 years of circus life: "I fight audience. I don't want laughs. When they laugh, I get angry and the angrier I get the more they laugh. It's the psychology of the thing."

Griebling is an adult clown, whose stuff is aimed mostly at grownups.

"I do a little fine stuff," he'll tell you in his German accent, using the word fine in the sense of finely-spun or small-grained. "You know, with expressions. I go pretty deep with clowning."

"We miss the big tent," Jeanne Ferroni, the small, chunky trapeze artist, told me. Jeanne's been with the circus since babyhood and she's known no other life.

"My mother was a flyer. My father was a catcher. My aunt was a leaper. I never thought of being in the act, though. I was scared to death. Then one day I looked up and I don't know what happened. Next thing I knew I was a flyer, too."

SHE AND HER Spanish husband, also with the circus, now travel from spot to spot in a trailer with their children, a little girl and (The girl already likes to swing on bars.)

"Until we got the trailer we lived in motels," she said. "Most of them do. It's not like the old days when we lived under the big top. Then you got to know everyone. Everyone was always practicing and you got to know people.

"People don't get to know one another like the old days. We don't even get acquainted with the performers from Europe any more. I sure miss the big tent."

An hour of the new circus will be seen on television Monday (7:30 to 8:30 p.m.) on ABC-TV.

(Copyright New York Herald Tribune)

AMONG SULLIVAN SHOW STARS. Jane Russell will be featured on the Ed Sullivan Show Sunday along with Shelley Winters, Fred MacMurray, Jan Murray, David Seville and The Chipmunks, Joe Howard and Joe Howard Jr., and Sheky Green. Jane will sing a solo and then duet with her brother, Kevin, who makes his first national TV appearance. The show is seen at 8 p.m. over Station WBNS, Channel 10.

Junior Choir Here Will Join Festival

Joining in a junior choir festival at Delaware Sunday at 5 p.m. will be a group from Marion, the Forest Lawn Presbyterian Junior Choir. This is an activity of the Columbus Presbytery initiated several years ago and this year carried on for the first time in two separate sections.

The event at Delaware will be held in Gray Chapel on the Ohio Wesleyan University campus. There will be 21 singers from Forest Lawn Church participating. The local director is Miss Ferol Mae Burley.

Selections will be divided into five categories with the general theme "The Word of God" interpreted through "The Law," "The Psalms," "The Prophets," "The Gospels" and "The Epistles." The numbers will be, "Teach Me, O Lord," Atwood; "The One Hundredth Psalm," Mueller; "I Wonder as I wander," Horton and Niles; "Prepare Thyself Zion," Bach; 2 "What Strangers Are These?" Davies; "How Beautiful Are the Feet," Handel; and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," Lutkin.

Taking part also will be a Marion pastor, the Rev. Irvin W. Emmons from First Presbyterian Church here. After the program the Marion young people will return here for dinner at the Highway Hotel.

Divers Build Immunity To Pollution of Water

HONOLULU (AP) — Boys who dive for coins tossed from arriving ocean liners by tourists apparently have built up an immunity to disease from polluted water.

The territory's sanitation board says Honolulu's harbor is so polluted that it doesn't even bother to take readings.
